Forest Fires Still Raging In California

Crews Are Reinforced To Meet Threat From Predicted High Winds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Crews fighting to check two forest fires in the San Gabriel Mountains, one menacing Mt. Wilson Observatory, were reinforced to meet a predicted fresh windstorm today.

Forecasters said the fate of the observatory, valuable television equipment and homes in the fire area depended upon the caprice of the wind, if it develops.

Another fire 20 miles to the east, in the Mt. Baldy region, broke out of control last night and swept another 1,000 acres to bring the flame-blackened area there to 4,000 acres.

Fire lines were able to keep the flames from the summit of Mt. Wilson yesterday, largely because the wind abated almost entirely but there were times when the blaze crept to within 200 yards of the observatory grounds.

The U.S. Forest Service announced last night that 12,000 acres had been blackened in the Mt. Wilson-Monrovia Peak fire. On the 14 miles of uncontrolled fire front are 800 men, and 13 bulldozers, 54 pumpers and one helicopter. The Forest Service also said it was "fairly certain" now that the fire was caused by a careless smoker.

Some 1,500 persons have been evacuated from the area.

FLAMES RACE ACROSS ROAD. Roaring flames sweep toward a road in the mountains just above Monrovia, Calif., near Los Angeles as a huge brush fire swept out of control. Many mountain cabins have been burned, 2,500 persons were evacuated from their homes, and the towns of Sierra Madre and upper Monrovia were threatened.

Fight Brewing On Expanding Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Kean (R-NJ) predicted today neither the Eisenhower administration nor Congress will adopt a key Republican colleague's plan to pay social security pensions to almost everyone over 65.

Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb), chairman of a social security subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee, outlined the far-reaching new program yesterday. It seemed destined for heated controversy when Congress convenes next week.

Ike Backer

Kean, fourth-ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, has been an Eisenhower supporter and has taken a special interest in social security. He said Curtis' plan would undermine the social security trust fund.

Curtis called in effect for pensions now for all retired persons over 65 years old, and for an increase in the monthly minimum social security benefit from the present $25 to $45.

He estimated this would add some five million new aged persons, 670,000 children and 150,000 widows or orphans to the old age retirement and survivors' insurance (OASI) benefit rolls, more than doubling the present number.

Curtis said the new minimum would increase benefits for more than 1,700,000 aged persons, 300,000 orphans and 100,000 widows already on the rolls.

Would Include Doctors

He called for tax contributions from all workers under 65, levied on all types of income. He would let the rate jump from 1½ to 2 per cent in incomes up to $3,600 annually, paid by workers and employers alike, as scheduled Friday. He estimated this would bring more than 10½ million doctors, lawyers, farmers and others from the present working force into the system.

Augustus Gets Sentence for Manslaughter

Murder Charge Cut In Fatal Stabbing of Miss June Harris, 34

A sentence of one to 20 years in the Ohio Penitentiary was received by Virgil Ray Augustus, 45, of 688 Hocking St., this morning in Common Pleas Court in connection with the May 13 stabbing of June Harris, 34.

The sentence was handed down after Judge Paul D. Smith allowed a motion made by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Carhart requesting a reduction in the charge of second degree murder to first degree manslaughter on the fatal stabbing.

Augustus pleaded guilty to the manslaughter charge.

In making the motion, Carhart told the court that Augustus was indicted by the grand jury in May and subsequently was judged sane after a 30-day observation period at the Lima State Hospital.

A physical condition, involving his heart and a high blood pressure, made it impossible for Augustus to stand trial in open court, Carhart said, and in view of these circumstances asked for the reduction in charges.

Augustus has been held at the Marion County jail since the indictment, with the exception of the period in the Lima institution.

Carter M. Patton, court-appointed attorney for Augustus, reported to the court that attempts to admit Augustus to a veterans hospital had been unsuccessful because doctors considered his condition a "medical oddity" and unexplainable.

The May stabbing took place in an upstairs room at the Harris home at 686 Hocking St., next door to Augustus' home. Others in the house at the time of the stabbing told police that Augustus and Miss Harris had been drinking in the room most of the afternoon. She came staggering down the stairs with a knife wound in the upper left chest about 2:30 p.m., and died while on the way to Marion City Hospital.

A statement obtained from Augustus after the stabbing indicated he stabbed Miss Harris during an argument, but subject of the argument has not been disclosed.

Police Officer In Greenlease Case Indicted

Jury Says Shoulders Committed Perjury In Ransom Testimony

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A federal grand jury says Louis Shoulders, the veteran police officer who nabbed the Greenlease kidnapers, lied in his testimony about the handling of $300,000 ransom money recovered at the time of the arrest.

The jury yesterday indicted Shoulders on a charge of perjury.

Robert C. Greenlease, millionaire Kansas City automobile dealer whose 6-year-old son Bobby was kidnaped and killed last Sept. 28, paid a record $600,000 ransom.

Approximately $300,000 was recovered with the arrest of kidnaper Carl Austin Hall and his alcoholic paramour, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, who were executed in the Missouri State Prison gas chamber a week before Christmas. The other half of the ransom is still missing.

Shoulders could not be reached for comment on the indictment.

Shoulders, aided by Patrolman Elmer Dolan, arrested Hall in a St. Louis hotel room Oct. 6. The veteran officer, who testified before a grand jury that indicted Mrs. Heady and Hall, told the jurors the suitcases containing the money were taken promptly to the police station.

In its indictment yesterday the

DiSalle Confers With Sen. Burke

CLEVELAND (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, ex-mayor of Toledo and former national price administrator, had a long talk last night with U. S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke at a social affair. But when it was over DiSalle would not say whether he would support Burke's bid for the Democratic nomination as senator or campaign for it himself

The meeting was their first since Gov. Frank J. Lausche appointed Burke, a five-term Cleveland mayor, to the senate seat left vacant by the death of Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati Republican. It was reported afterward that DiSalle had voiced displeasure that the appointment did not go to him.

Temperatures Fall

Cold Snap Hits Midwest; More Snow Is Expected

By The Associated Press

Biting cold hit the northern Midwest today as arctic air from Canada spread southeastward from the Dakotas to the Ohio River valley.

It was 30 degrees below zero in northern Minnesota early today. Sub-zero readings also were reported in other parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin, and in eastern North Dakota. Temperatures were near zero in parts of Wisconsin and Iowa.

Frigid spots included Bemidji and International Falls, Minn., -30; Duluth, Minn, -18; Grand Forks, N.D., -14; Grantsburg, Wis., -12 and Minneapolis -5.

The leading edge of the cold air stretched from southeastern lower Michigan southwestward through central Illinois down to northern Texas. A band of cloudiness northwest of the cold front last night moderated temperatures throughout Illinois and Indiana and instead of the expected lows of around zero, temperatures were in the 20s early today.

Light snow fell in sections of the cold belt and another storm north of the Montana border moved east and southeastward to bring more snow into the Dakotas. The snow was expected to extend over much of the Midwest during today and tomorrow, with the cold weather continuing.

Light snow also fell in the central Rockies and rain continued in the far Northwest.

Temperatures generally continued around seasonal levels in most other sections of the country. There were a few zero readings in the central Rockies.

Defense Boss Hands Initial Report to Ike

Wilson Declares U.S. Forces Most Potent In Peacetime History

WASHINGTON (AP) — American armed forces—equipped with atomic weapons and backboned by air power—are officially termed the most potent ever marshaled by this country "short of war."

That's the opinion of Secretary of Defense Wilson, who yesterday turned in his first formal report to President Eisenhower on his conduct of the nation's defense affairs. The report is required by law.

Covers 'New Look'

Wilson dealt chiefly with developments during the first half of this year, but the report also was concerned with the "new look" given U.S. strategy and defense needs by the nation's military leaders.

This has resulted in greater stress on air power and reported plans to reduce the number of men in Army, Navy and Marine ranks. As a possible step in this direction, the Army announced yesterday that it is shortening the active duty tours of some 6,000 2nd and 1st lieutenants who are not regulars.

Budget Slash Noted

Wilson called attention to the success of his team in trimming $5,300,000,000 from the current fiscal year's military budget.

Any deeper slashes, he said, would have meant a slower rate of defense buildup than was "prudent from the point of view of our national security."

Five Missing In Wilmington Tanker Crash

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Two big Atlantic Refining Co. tank ships, one identified by the company as of the giant supertanker class, collided early today in the foggy Delaware River.

Fire followed the collision, but was extinguished within a short time.

Five crewmen were listed as missing three hours after the crash.

The company said 12 crewmen jumped into the river to escape the flames, and that seven were rescued within a short time.

Damage Not Set

There was no immediate report of the extent of damage to the vessels. The 19,000-ton Atlantic Engineer, loaded with 218,000 barrels of crude oil from Texas, reported all of her crewmen safe.

All of the five men missing, the company said, were from the 10,600-ton Atlantic Dealer, which was bound for Philadelphia with 9,000 barrels of gasoline and 114,000 barrels of other refined petroleum products.

Seven crewmen were picked up by the Chilean Freighter Copiaco, which sailed from Philadelphia yesterday for Baltimore and apparently had been awaiting lifting of the fog so it could pass through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal.

Scene of the collision was about the center of the two-mile-wide river, 6½ miles south of Wilmington and about 25 miles from Philadelphia.

One Tanker Anchored

A company official said the Atlantic Engineer was anchored in the river at the time of the crash, and was bumped by the Atlantic Dealer, which probably was seeking a safe anchorage spot to await lifting of the fog.

The Delaware River at that point is one of the world's busiest waterways, connecting Philadelphia with the Atlantic Ocean and providing access to the canal which is a direct route to Baltimore and the Chesapeake Bay areas.

Company spokesmen said no crewmen were burned in the fires.

The Atlantic Engineer carried a crew of 46, the Atlantic Dealer 41.

The Coast Guard said the Engineer reported she would be able to proceed to Philadelphia when the fog cleared.

EISENHOWER DRAFTS REPORT. Working on his economic report to the nation, President Eisenhower (right) talks with his aides in his new office at the Presidential retreat in Augusta, Ga. Southern Democrats Irked

Ike's Plan To Spread Out Defense Jobs Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Eisenhower administration plan for funneling more government defense work into areas of large unemployment ran into a barrage of heavy criticism from Southern Democrats today, foreshadowing verbal fireworks when Congress meets next week.

Charge Pledges Broken

Sen. Maybank (D-SC) accused President Eisenhower of turning his back on his campaign promises. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) and Sen. Hill (D-Ala) said the program, set forth again yesterday at the Little White House at Augusta, Ga., violated pledges made by the GOP leadership in the Senate last July.

And Sparkman declared it is not true, as Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said, that "this is the first time a national administration has tried to do something" about chronic regional unemployment.

Sparkman said the Truman administration had a "positive and definite program" for cutting defense contracts into areas of labor surplus.

Declines Comment

In Augusta, Hagerty declined to comment further when asked about an official policy of the Truman administration, put into effect in 1952, to award defense contracts to other than the low bidders in an effort to counter unemployment in some areas.

Hagerty also said the policy was being announced for the first time, so far as he knew. Actually, it had been outlined in a memorandum by Arthur S. Flemming, defense mobilization director, last Nov. 4 and made public then. At that time, Flemming named 17 large and 22 smaller metropolitan areas of chronic unemployment as eligible for aid.

In its essentials, the policy is similar to that of the Truman administration, abandoned last August, to give preference in the award of defense contracts to areas where there is considerable unemployment.

Most Critical

Most criticism of it in the past has come from Southerners who argued that it would rob their textile mills, for example, of government business which would be steered to New England.

"Altogether a bad policy and one I have never favored," Sen. George (D-Ga) said. "It's a great mistake and will unbalance industry everywhere."

Rep. Lanham (D-Ga), saying he was "unalterably opposed" to the program, said "Congress never authorized it and it is a definite assumption by the executive department to channel contracts to New England."

"Utterly unfair," declared Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga).

Threat of Bus Strike Averted; Drivers Content

John Tanner, president of Local 222, Transport Workers of America, said today there is no immediate danger of bus drivers going out on strike against Marion Transit, Inc.

Tanner said members of the union seem satisfied with the efforts of local merchants to promote the raising of $10,000 capital for the company, part of which will be used to make repairs which the drivers demanded when they threatened to walk out last week.

Al Hamburg, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Retail Board of Managers which is promoting the issue said this morning his group would have no report on the sale until early next week.

The drivers had voted to strike Dec. 18 unless the company repaired heating systems of the busses and began a long-range program of bus repairs.

The company, citing lack of funds due to decreased patronage, said it could not repair the busses. The strike was averted when the merchants made their offer to back the raising of capital.

Floyd W. Kreisel, president of the company, said today the repairs would be completed when the capital was received.

In an effort to help the company operate at a profit, city council Monday night authorized the firm to make certain changes in bus schedules and routes.

Key French Outpost May Be Big Goal

Invaders Approach Within Four Miles of Major Strongpoint

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh rebels tightened their presure today on Dien Bien Phu, the last French fortress in northwest Indochina. French sources speculated that it is the major objective in the current Communist winter campaign, perhaps in preparation for another push into the already invaded kingdom of Laos.

Reds Push Forward

The Red-led invaders who knifed across southern Laos to Thakhek on the Thailand border last week had made no apparent new move in four days. But at Dien Bien Phu, 300 airline miles to the northwest, troops of the Vietminh "Iron Division" drew within four miles of the fortressed plain bristling with French Union troops and American-supplied arms.

A French army spokesman said strong French Union patrols clashed twice with Vietminh troops northwest and southwest of Dien Bien Phu. There was a strong indication the Vietminh might be trying to move striking forces into encircling positions before launching an attack.

The rebels were reported within four to six miles of the fortress, which was taken by the French last Nov. 20 and steadily reinforced by airlift since then.

French Brace

The French have been expecting an attack there by troops of Vietminh Division No. 316—the "Iron Division"—equipped with some of the best and heaviest materiel received from Communist China.

French fighter planes made heavy strafing attacks on the Vietminh as they drew closer to the fortress 180 miles west of Hanoi, in the heart of the biggest rice bowl area of the Thai mountain country.

French army sources said if an attack comes on Dien Bien Phu, the battle will be hard and heavy. Fall of the fortress would not only lose for France its last major post in the Thai country bordering on Communist China but would also open a major invasion route into northern Laos, where the rebels already have forces left from the invasion they interrupted last spring.

Churches Plan Special Watch Night Services

At Least 12 To Mark Coming of New Year With Events Thursday

Preparations have been made by at least 12 Marion churches for special Watch Night services on Thursday, New Year's Eve. One observance has been arranged as a union program by two congregational groups.

Plans have been made by Epworth Methodist Church for visitation of the Upper Room chapel at "Our House," the church youth center by those who wish to take communion there during New Year's Eve and the first hours of the beginning year 9 p.m. Thursday through 3 a.m. Friday. At 11, a Watch Night service will be held in the church with a portion broadcast on the radio over Station WMRN.

Setting for the Epworth service will include a large clock at the front of the church "symbolically ticking off the minutes." Congregational singing of familiar hymns will be led by George Lane with Mrs. Lane at the organ. Sermon theme will be "What Time Is It?" Taking part also will be Robert F. Williams who will tell about the religious symbols found in the sanctuary, and Miss Margaret Huffman who will read Scripture.

A special feature will be a quarter-hour recording made especially for the service with the pastor, Rev. W. C. Eyster, and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Robinson who head the Home Department interviewing several members in their homes. Included will be a visit with a 97-year-old woman, one with a newly married couple, another in a home where there is a new son, another with a woman who, though confined to a wheel chair, does her own housework, and the final interview will be with a former Home Department superintendent who is 85. Ringing of the church bell will be heard at midnight.

Marion Student, 18, Missing 3 Weeks, Located in Florida

Gerald Jack Fees, 18-year-old Marion youth who has been missing from his grandparents' home in Hyattville, Md., since Dec. 3, has been discovered in Miami, Fla., Marion police reported today.

Fees was located when he tried to enlist in the Marine Corps at Miami. The recruiting office there sent a copy of his fingerprints and a request for any record he might have to Marion police.

The police department notified his mother, Mrs. Rachel Simmons of 3. E. Mark St., who left for Florida yesterday.

Fees was last seen when he left his grandparents' home on the morning of Dec. 3 to attend classes at the University of Maryland at College Park where he was enrolled as a freshman.

At the time, he was driving his mother's 1950 model car and was carrying between $300 and $400 to pay his tuition for the next semester.

Police said that they have no report on his activities or whereabouts between the time he was last seen and the time he was located in Florida.

But No Support Pledged

Russell Welcomes Look At Ike's Program for '54

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) today termed "an excellent idea" President Eisenhower's plan to give an advance outline of his 1954 program to key Democrats, but the senator made plain he will not pledge blanket support.

And Russell, the unofficial leader of a powerful group of Southern Democrats in the Senate, noted in an interview that the almost equal division of Congress in effect gives Democrats a potential veto power over anything the President requests.

"There always is politics in Congress during a campaign year under our Democratic system," Russell said. "We'll have an exciting session."

Russell is one of the top Democratic congressional leaders invited by Eisenhower to hear a White House preview of his State of the Union message Jan. 5, two days before it is presented publicly to Congress. Congress convenes Jan. 6.

"I think it is an excellent idea to discuss these issues that concern everyone, Democrats and Republicans, with the minority party," Russell said.

But Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) said the Democrats were being called to the White House after the program had been set.

"It reminds me of the surgeon who invited a guest in to view the remains and be at the wake," McCarran said of the Eisenhower invitation.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, voiced confidence that Eisenhower would make changes

Guessing Game Develops On Ike's Farm Program

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A guessing game involving participants all over the world has developed around the closely guarded drafting of a new farm aid program the Eisenhower administration plans to lay before Congress next month.

The big questions center largely on farm price supports, production control programs, export plan and methods for dealing with a present four-billion-dollar farm surplus.

The speculation is worldwide because of the possible influence the recommendations may have on commodity markets at home and abroad. U. S. price support programs in the past have had far-reaching effects on markets in other countries as well as in this one.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson and his close associates are keeping mum on the farm recommendations President Eisenhower will include in his State of the Union message to Congress.

They realize that a premature leak, particularly if obtained by a few commodity traders or speculators, could affect markets and give traders who got it a possible chance to make a cleaning.

Furthermore, the administration wants its program to be set forth in the best possible light and with the prestige of the presidency behind it.

Most guesses are that the administration will recommend a system of flexible price supports under which government price guarantees would be high in time of shortages to encourage production and low in times of surpluses to discourage production.

Present war-born mandatory, high-level supports are scheduled to expire at the end of 1954.

There is speculation that the administration may propose a dual price system for wheat, cotton and rice. Under such a plan the domestically consumed portions of these crops would be supported at high price levels. Production in excess of domestic needs would be offered abroad at lower prices.

But several farm groups, including the big American Farm Bureau Federation, oppose a dual price plan on the grounds that it would be interpreted abroad as export dumping with a resulting harmful reaction from friendly competitor nations

Most forecasts have the administration recommending a shift to a modernized formula for determining farm parity prices. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay for things they need.

Some farm leaders contend that the present formula used for wheat, cotton, corn and several other crops provides a price standard that is too high because it does not take into account modern machinery, equipment and higher yielding crops.

Few forecasts have been made that the administration will come up with new proposals for supporting producer prices of such perishable roducts as cattle, hogs, eggs, poultry, fruits and vegetables. None of these products now enjoys direct price support aid.

Nominating Ballots Mailed by Morrow Rural Co-Operative

MT. GILEAD —Plans for election of board members of the Morrow County Rural Electric co-operatives in Mt. Gilead began this week with the mailing of nominating ballots.

Members in the northern part of the area served by the Co-op will elect trustees in Districts 6, 7, and 8.

On Jan. 19, a committee on election, composed of Merrill Cowgill and Alex Fuller of near Marengo, and Glen Sanderlin of near Lexington, will tabulate the ballots. Later in the month, ballots listing three nominees from each district will be sent to eligible Co-op voters.

District 6 is represented on the board by John Simmons of near Bellville. It includes Perry Township in Morrow County, Perry and Jefferson Twps. in Richland County, and Berlin and Middlebury Twps. in Knox County. District 7 is composed of the north half of Gilead Twp. and Congress Twp. Present board member is Donald Mitchell. District 8 includes Washington and North Bloomfield Twps. and is now represented by D. A. Snyder of near Galion.

Ohio's Short Termers May Be Reinducted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The chief of Selective Service in Ohio said today a presidential executive order will result in reinduction of a number of men released from service after having served as little as one or two days of active duty.

Col. C. W. Goble, Ohio Selective Service director, referred to the executive order signed by President Eisenhower Dec. 11.

The amendment to Selective Service regulations, Col. Goble said, will remove the possibility of evasion of minimum equitable service by a small number of persons who, under the former regulations will require a minimum of six months' service.

Under the new regulations, registrants who entered active duty in the armed forces after June 4, 1948, will be classified as 1-C only if they are separated from active duty after completion of six month or more of honorable service.

Col. Goble said this change will mean an estimated 2,000 to 3,000 persons throughout the country and an estimated 150 in Ohio, now classifed in 1-C, will be subject to reclassification and possible induction.

This kind of "Fix" is OK

Traffic law enforcement is important. Traffic violations can't be "fixed" if today's tragically high accident rate is to be reduced. But the careful driver, when sued, does have someone who will take his place in court or in making a friendly settlement of damage claims. When you have your automobile liability insurance with us we "Fix" things so you need not worry.

May Some Day Overwhelm Communists

Growing Instinct for Ownership Hints At Revolution of Russian Middle Class

EDITOR'S NOTE — William L. Ryan, AP foreign news analyst, is back from a three-month trip to the Soviet Union. He speaks Russian and he traveled alone through eight of the republics that make up the U.S.S.R. This is one of a series of uncensored articles in which Ryan describes and analyzes post-Stalin Russia as he saw it.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign Analyst

The post-Stalin era has brought the Soviet Communist party face to face with a bloodless revolution it would like to ignore.

Neon signs in Moscow and other Soviet capitals are more than mere advertisement. They are portents of the future:

"Insure your personal belongings."

"Invest in bonds for your future."

"Save your money in a savings bank."

I traveled more than 6,000 miles inside the Soviet Union and saw a large slice of the vast, powerful, puzzling country, a shuffling and sloppy giant among nations which realizes its own strength and is frightened at its own weaknesses.

There was evidence of something which may prove one of the most significant developments since the Bolshevik revolution, and also one of the brightest hopes for a lasting world peace.

It is this: The Soviet Union seems to be undergoing a middle class revolution, no less powerful because it is non-violent and gradual.

In spite of Communist doctrine—in fact, in spite of itself—the U.S.S.R. is building a powerful middle class with an instinct for ownership. Some day it may engulf and overwhelm the Communist party.

I did not find revolutionary restlessness, but I did find evidence of annoyance and irritation with the bureaucracy. There was boundless confidence being expressed, high and low, that now was the time for a change, that better things were in store.

"We have a new boss now," a young engineer told me.

"We have a new government now," said a teacher in central Asia.

Over and over again I heard words like this—words indicating relief that Stalin was gone, hope that something new was on the horizion.

Some frankly admitted that Premier Georgi Malenkov's promise of a better life in "two to three years" was highly optimistic. There are at least 10 years of road building, home building, machine production and transport development ahead before the Soviet consumer front can be compared with that of any advanced Western nation. The greatest obstacles in the way is the deep-freeze bureaucracy built up under Stalin's dictatorship. If he is to succeed, Malenkov must wield a powerful knife against the red tape in his way.

The growing Soviet middle class is becoming impatient. Russians in Moscow eagerly snatch up American magazines to dream over the advertisements of consumer goods. A minor official in Leningrad had a standing arrangement with an American to deliver him used copies of department store catalogues. There are Soviet women who reject shoddy clothing in the stores and try to make their own on Western lines. All these are warnings for the new regime.

On every hand are evidences that the private property instinct, far from being exterminated, is flourishing among a big section of the population. It is particularly present among that section which can be considered a middle class. It is manifest in the determination of such people to pass on accumulated things to the next generation.

These people are to be found among second and third generation Communists and their families who have no memory of revolutionary Bolshevism—and also among the growing class of directors, managers, specialists, scientists, writers, engineers, professional people, army officers, "advanced" workers who earn high pay, and a whole layer of educated people necessary to the Soviet economy.

In the capitals of central Asia and the Caucasus, the planes, trains and buses discharge unwilling pioneers, the new empire builders of Great Russia.

By the thousands they pour into provincial capitals — Communist party political experts, agronomists, veterinarians, engineers and mechanics of all grades. They are well dresed by Soviet standards, but they often look unhappy and often they are accompanied by less happy fur-coated wives.

For a long time these privileged people have had things too good. Now they must pay the first installment of their debt to the Soviet state for educating them. The palmy days are over for many.

These "volunteers," fresh from carefully staged and propagandized celebrations of farewell and congratulations, have had to be pushed into the remote reaches of the farflung Soviet empire to do their part in the government's desperate attempts to bring order to the chaos of its consumer economy.

Generations of Russians before them brought Russian culture and Russian domination to almond-eyed Kazakhs, the gentle, swarthy Tadjiks, the nomad turkmen and all the scores of nationalities cemented into the Soviet Union.

The new crop of pioneers has been assigned the task of exploiting the natural riches of these rich lands so that the Soviet Union's home front will achieve the elasticity it needs to cushion it against the possible shock of a new world conflict. The party pictures this as a glorious task, but there is little joy in it for the new arrivals.

Debarking into the thick mud of a provincial airport, a specialist takes a shivering look at the great vastness beyond the republic capital, and decides to stay in town, hoping to be part of a sort of headquarters corps. But that won't do.

"It is impossible," said Tadjikstan Communist, official party paper, "to tolerate the fact that many specialists, instead of going to work in machine-tractor stations and collective farms, continue to live in cities and simply pay flying visits to their work."

This reflects Moscow's irritation with the slowness of the new program. It has promised a great upsurge of farm production in two to three years, but all depends on the peasants, and the peasants must have technical help.

Even so remote a city as Alma Ata in Kazakhstan—at the edge of Siberia and frozen five months of the year—is comfortable compared with what the specialists face if and when they get to farms, villages and machine-tractor stations.

So the "volunteers" have to be pushed. The party cracks down hard, not only to round them up but to get them moving into the fields. Young specialists, the ink on their diplomas scarcely dry, are being shoved out to the cold, remote regions for active work, even before livable quarters are ready for them.

The "volunteers" can hardly be blamed for wanting to stay in the cities. Russians are well off there. It takes only a glance to see tha they are much better off than the native populations. Many of the local people, of course, have advanced far in party and government ranks, but the key positions in all phases of life are held by Russians.

Undated 1st add Ryan series No. 2

Russianization—the imposition of Moscow's culture on all its subject peoples—continues unchecked. It began long before the Communists took power, eased off in the first flush of the revolution, and then returned with a vengeance.

The Russians, like indulgent patrons, permit local peoples their old customs, lore and culture—so long as this does not go too far. Nothing must reflect against the "progressive significance" of the annexation of these areas by czarist Russia. It is "bourgeois nationalism" to suggest that the local culture is not inferior and is not enriched by the Russian.

Study of Russian is compulsory in the schools. All business is conducted in Russian. Street signs and newspapers are in two and sometimes three languages, but in central Asia the alphabets are Russian. Capital cities have more Russians than natives.

National plays, national ballet and national opera are performed in these capitals but after they have been screened carefully ti guard against traces of nationalism. Just as many, and probably more, Russian ballets, plays and operas are performed. Streets are named more often for Russian heroes than for the local ones. Histories are rewritten to portray as beneficent the influence of czarist Russia.

The Communists have built cities in central Asia, but in their studied attempt to make privincial capitals little carbon copies of Moscow, they have introduced much of the drabness and monotony of the Soviet capital. Along with new buildings, they brought the drudgery of existence under a Communist regime. Along with education came the constant nagging of the party to get more from the people.

Along with hospitals and institutions the Communists brought the monotonously depressing sight of women, young and old in capital after capital, dragooned like their sisters in Moscow into the heaviest of manual labor—digging ditches, carrying bricks, hacking ice from the roads or endlessly and listlessly sweeping streets with brooms fashione from bundles of twigs.

Along with new industry came the shabbiness of goods in the stores, the drabness of endless, aggravating bureaucracy putting new obstacles in the way of an existence already difficult enough.

Will Wed Barbara Hutton

Playboy's Marital Plans Get Okay of Dominicans

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic's Foreign Office said last night that international playboy Porfirio Rubirosa will marry Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton in a ceremony at the Dominican consulate-general in New York.

The wedding will be sponsored by a high Dominican diplomatic and military official who will go to New York especially for that purpose, the Foreign Office said. The name of the official was not revealed, nor was the date of the marriage specified.

Last night the Dominican Foreign Office said Rubirosa would be restored to his former diplomatic post and Miss Hutton would become a Dominican citizen.

Rubirosa was recently dropped from his post as minister plenipotentiary in Paris for what his government called "misconduct."

Rubirosa, now on the Pacific Coast, was quoted yesterday as saying he was returning to New York to meet Miss Hutton. When asked if he planned to marry the four-times-wedded heiress, he said: "We may."

The New York Daily Mirror today said Miss Hutton "coyly admitted" she plans to wed again.

She was quoted by the Mirror as saying:

"I can't make any announcement right now, but I'm sure you can make your own deductions. I'm more than happy. I'm delirious with joy."

Rubirosa, who lost his diplomatic post in Paris after figuring as the other man in two divorce actions, was formerly married to Flor Trujillo, daughter of the Dominican dictator; French actress Danielle Darrieux; and to Doris Duke.

Woman Kidnaper Pleads Guilty, May Get 21-Year Term

MUSKOGEE, Okla (AP) — Mrs. Tommie Dene Doughty, 17-year-old unrepentant kidnaper of a 5-month-old Indiana child, today faced a 21-year-term in federal prison for the crime.

Mrs. Doughty, former carnival strip teaser, pleaded guilty yesterday to abducting the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee Stammer while baby-sitting with the boy in Evansville, Ind.

Her attorneys, appealing for a suspended sentence, said Mrs. Doughty had a mother complex because she had lost a baby of her own. Psychiatrists ruled her sane.

After her arrest at her Bokchito, Okla. home., the young kidnaper said she would take the child again if given the chance. The boy was recovered unharmed.

Nixon, McCarthy Stay At Same Miami Hotel

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) vacationed at the same ocean-front hotel here today.

Nixon arrived Saturday night and McCarthy, accompanied by his wife, his brother and a secretary, arrived last night.

The two dined together. Nixon is expected to be here until the end of the week.

APPOINTED. Henry Parkman, Boston attorney and a veteran of both world wars, has been appointed deputy high commissioner for Berlin to serve under Dr. James B. Conant.

7 College Editors Begin Soviet Tour

MOSCOW (AP)—Seven editors of American college newspapers started three weeks of sightseeing in the Soviet Union today.

They include Dean Schoelkopf, editor of the University of Minnesota Daily; Dave Barney, editor of the Reed Quest, Reed College, Portland, Ore.; Craig E. Lovitt, editors of the Knox Student, Knox College, Galesburg, Ill.; William C. Ives, associate editor of the Knox Student; Gregory Shuker, editor of the Daily Northwestern, niversity, Evanston, Ill.; Richard Elden, associate editor of the Daily Northwestern; and Richard E. Ward, managing editor of the University of Chicago Maroon.

The seven make up the second group of U.S. college editors admitted to the Soviet Union in the last few months.

Cap Pistol Touches Off Birmingham Explosion

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Edward Cobb, 4, was playing with two brothers on a street corner when he pulled the trigger of his cap pistol near a sewer opening. The blast that followed was believed to have been caused by escaping gas

Edward's brothers David, 6, and Douglas, 12, bea out the fire on his burning clothes, but the boy was burned on the face, neck and body.

His condition was described as good last night.

10-State Truck Walkout Still Due for Jan. 15

DETROIT (AP)—The AFL Midwestern Conference of Teamsters has been requested to postpone a 10-state truckers strike slated for Jan. 15.

Michigan trucking operators made the request at a meeting here last night. The majority of the 100 operators attending the meeting said they would convene in Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 8 to discuss issues raised by the Ohio highway usage tax.

The Michigan truckers said that they wanted the union to postpone the strike, which would involve 10,000 owner-drivers in the Midwest, pending the outcome of the Columbus conference.

In Columbus, Gov. Frank J. Lausche said Ohio will make every effort to enforce its new axle-mile tax on trucks.

He told a meeting of truckers and state officials yesterday: "The Legislature levied the tax and it's up to my administration to collect it."

Industrialists and truckers urged the governor to prevent the reciprocity breakdown threatened by Ohio's insistence that out-of-state truckers as well as local carriers pay the tax on trucks with more than two axles.

States threatening to end truck tax reciprocity with Ohio include Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas.

300 Christmas Cards To Be Received Late

CHICAGO (AP)—Delivery of nearly 300 Christmas cards has been delayed but Postal Inspector F. W. Baleiko is working to get them distributed—before New Year's, he hopes.

Baleiko yesterday began matching 282 letters and Christmas cards to 282 envelopes in an unscrambling made necessary by Willie Brown, 30, a temporary mail carrier. Postal inspector said Brown's wife said he came home Christmas Eve and forced her to open each envelope. He was charged with embezzling and detaining and obstructing delivery of mail.

Blind Justice of Peace Begins New Term at 92

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Although blind and 92 years old, Charles C. Lord today began another four-year term as justice of the peace.

Lord, in office 20 years, calls himself "senior justice of the United States," meaning the oldest J. P. in the nation.

Aided by assistants, he conducts a busy court with civil and criminal cases running into the hundreds each year.

Come Out Wherever You Are

The proposal for paying rewards to Communist spies who spill their secrets to the proper federal authorities may have merit.

It is being backed by several United States senators who see merit in it. It was made moreover, by a former spy who turned against the Soviet Union in Canada and since has been given unusual rewards and security by the Canadian government. He should know.

This is not the kind of thing Americans prefer to think about, just as they prefer to ignore the fact their police pay stool pigeons for information. But there is a good chance it would work to everybody's satisfaction.

There is, moreover, a certain amount of proof that it would work satisfactorily. While the United States has paid no official rewards to turncoat commies, it has not been unaware of their needs. The repentant spies have done very well by themselves as lecturers, witnesses and authors—better in all probability than they could have expected to do as spies and certainly better than they could have done as mere patriots.

But where there are dozens now there might be hundreds if the United States government set up a schedule of payments for secret-spilling.

Hog-Tied by Mistake

One of the problems which Congress will tackle when it convenes is how to write a fool-proof law about wire-tapping. The Democrats have fooled around with this matter for the last 20 years.

The existing law dealing with the subject has had the effect of hog-tying law enforcers and letting all others go the limit. It was passed in 1934.

Through a series of court rulings on wire-tapping it has come to be legal practice to listen in on conversations for all kinds of purposes but always with one limitation—that it is a crime to divulge what was heard.

Thus, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, for example, can tap wires as often as it pleases as long as it does not reveal what it has heard. It can find out that a suspect is doing exactly what he is suspected of doing but it cannot use evidence obtained by wire-tapping to get a conviction.

It may know who is spying, for instance, but be unable to develop a case against him.

Contrary to a mass of mumbo-jumbo and theory about individual rights under the Constitution, it never was the purpose of any law ever passed to hog-tie any arm of the law enforcement. That is why there needs to be a new law.

The new law must specify what kind of wire-tapping shall be illegal and what kind of evidence obtained by wire-tapping shall be inadmissible. It must specify by the same token what kind of wire-tapping shall be legal and what kind of evidence shall be admissible.

Nothing could be sillier than for the United States to put itself at the mercy of people who know how to take advantage of murky passages in the laws it has enacted for its own security.

Holiday Spirit

The holiday spirit which reached its annual climax again on Christmas Day this year reveals some attributes underestimated while it is gaining momentum.

One of these attributes is the release of tensions by an upside - down process of creating tensions of another kind.

What with one thing and another, more Americans try to get more things done under greater pressure during the days just before Christmas than at any other time of the year. They literally exhaust themselves.

Yet, when they look back on it they realize—most of them—that they were relatively free of those tensions which build up to such proportions the rest of the year that they underwrite the practice of psychiatry.

This in itself is a form of psychiatric treatment because Christmas provides a distraction for millions of people who have been thinking too much, too long about too narrow a subject.

Another attribute of the holiday spirit is the performance of thoughtful deeds on a routine basis which would be performed only under extraordinary circumstances at any other season of the year.

Millions of acts of kindness and consideration gladden hearts which otherwise would be heavy.

There is nothing about Christmas more precious than its stimulation of the impulse to be compassionate and generous.

If the same stimulation existed throughout the year — a dream which entrances many of us while the holiday spirit is reaching its climax —the world could be transformed into a workaday version of Utopia.

Or if it could be duplicated on at least one other occasion — say on Aug. 25 — there could be two holidays each year. But of course it wouldn't work that way, because the miraculous transformation wrought by the holiday spirit cannot happen twice.

When it's all over and the last of the Merry Christmases has been wished, it's sufficiently miraculous that it can happen once.

Test in Indochina

By David Lawrence

Korean Armistice Violated as Dare to Eisenhower

When a man of the military prestige of President Eisenhower makes an impressive statement to the whole world, the Soviet rulers wait to see whether he really means what he says. If he doesn't they accord his remarks no more respect tha nthe hollow pledges of any other statesman.

The Communists today are testing President Eisenhower on their aggressions in Indochina. They want to know if he was bluffing on April 16 last when he declared in his historic speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors:

"The first great step along this way must be the conclusion of an honorable armistice in Korea

"This means the immediate cessation of hostilities and the prompt initiation of political discussions leading to the holding of free elections in a united Korea.

"It should mean—no less importantly—an end to the direct and indirect attacks upon the security of Indochina and Malaya. Any armistice in Korea that merely released aggressive armies to attack elsewhere would be a fraud."

—:—

ON SEPT. 2, 1953, after the Korean armistice had been signed on July 27, the secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, said to the American Legion Convention:

"We do not make the mistake of treating Korea as an isolated affair. The Korean war forms one part of the world-wide effort of Communism to conquer freedom. More immediately it is part of that effort in Asia.

"A single Chinese Communist aggressive front extends from Korea on the north to Indochina in the south. The armistice in Korea, even if it leads to a political settlement in Korea, does not end United States concern in the Western Pacific area. As President Eisenhower said in his April 16th speech, a Korean armistice would be a fraud if it merely released Communist forces for attack elsewhere.

"In Indochina a desperate struggle is in its eighth year. The outcome affects our own vital interests in the Western Pacific, and we are already contributing largely in material and money to the combined efforts of the French and of Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. . .

"Communist China has been and now is training, equipping and supplying the Communist forces in Indochina. There is the risk that, as in Korea, Red China might send its own army into Indochina.

"The Chinese Communist regime should realize that such a second aggression could not occur without grave consequences which might not be confined to Indochina. I say this soberly in the interest of peace and in the hope of preventing another aggressor miscalculation."

THE AGGRESSION has come. Indochina has been cut in two by a drive of the Communists which was begun on Christmas Day, and Thailand's security is also threatened.

Two days before—on the night of December 23—Vice President Nixon, just back from a tour of Southeast Asia, reported over a nation-wide network to the American people:

"If Indochina falls, Thailand is put in an almost impossible position. The same is true of Malaya, with its rubber and tin. The same is true of Indonesia.

"If this whole part of Southeast Asia goes under Communist domination or Communist influence, Japan—who trades and must trade with this area in order to exist—must inevitably be oriented toward the Communist regime. That indicates to you and to all of us why it is vitally important that Indochina not go behind the Iron Curtain."

—:—

SMALL WONDER that the Moscow government postponed the Big Four Conference until January 24. It wants to see what the American government and its allies will do about the Indochina aggression.

Also, on January 22 all prisoners in Korea who want to be repatriated have to be released.

Already Secretary Dulles is on a spot. He told a news conference in Washington on August 12 last that under the Korean armistice agreement "all" prisoners—and he emphazized the word "all"—have to be returned directly or transferred to the repatriation commission.

He disclosed that returning soldiers had revealed that a number of Americans who wanted to come home were being held on crime charges. These are said to number 944, but the Pentagon thinks several of them are dead.

As for the rest of them, the Department of State has said nothing since August 12.

Relatives of those who are believed to be in captivity have been notified. Many tragic letters received by the writer indicate these relatives have no word of anything being done in behalf of the prisoners.

Thus has the spirit and the letter of the Korean armistice been flagrantly violated. What does the President of the United States intend to do about it?

The Moscow and Peiping governments are assuming that the Truman-Acheson policy of appeasement still prevails and apparently are going ahead in Indochina with their defiance of the United Nations in general and the United States in particular.

Meanwhile, some of the Allies are already planning to resume normal trade with the Communists and thus throw away the only real leverage the Allies possess.

Blind Spots

By TRUMAN TWILL

There are some things a fellow can't understand because he has a blind spot, is contrary, or was mistreated as a baby.

How did the cigaret makers ever get slickered into cutting their own throats with that scare advertising?

Who started the idea that George Burns without Gracie Allen would be just another vaudeville straight man?

When is it going to dawn on a lot of Yankee Doodle Dandies that most of what they're encouraged to argue about by their public officials is stuff cooked up to keep them from arguing about something else?

Why isn't it easy to get that delicious hard candy which can be had almost anywhere at Christmas during other seasons of the year?

What is the logic of criticizing a president of the United States for not being a shrewd politician when he was elected president of the United States because he was not a shrewd politician?

Why is it worse for a boy to go to college on an athletic scholarship than it is to go on a scholarship for being a drum major, a tuba player, or a whiz kid in mathematics?

Where do women learn to manage arguments so their baffled husbands wind up in blind alleys with sacks over their heads and their hands tied?

What will happen to social customs if it finally becomes too expensive in the United States for an ordinary taxpayer to die and he must perform this final grim chore without bankrupting his survivors?

When do goat - stomached consumers who have bolted their food from childhood without chewing it finally have to start handling this problem the same as all other people?

Whatever became of the custom of sending impudent kids sprawling across the floor on their backsides if they failed to show proper respect for their elders—and why?

Can a man acquire wisdom by the circumstance of having been lucky enough to get his hands on a lot of money instead of a lot of learning—and if not why pretend he can?

What could be more important in public education than ability to read and write the language of one's own country and where does the idea come from that people who can do something else yet cannot do this are educated?

Where do power companies and telephone companies find enough men to climb all those poles in all kinds of weather and to risk their lives after dark in fierce storms?

When, if ever, do the kind of people who make sour remarks about everything find something to feel good about?

Why couldn't the reforestation needs of the United States be taken care of by not cutting down any Christmas trees for the next 10 years?

"Let not mine enemies triumph over me."—Ps. 25:2. There are inner enemies as well as outward enemies. We can cast out inner enemies in the name of The Nazarene. Outward enemies we can leave to God. He will see justice done.

Quarter Way Up

Eisenhower Wary of Second Wrong War

By Edward K. Nellor

Officials here are taking another look at U.S. commitments in Indochina today following the new and so far highly successful Communist army drive in that area.

On the basis of previous statements by the President, Secretary Dulles and by the 16-nation signatories to the Korean peace treaty, the U.S. may be up to its neck in another fullscale Pacific war.

-:-

IF THE SITUATION worsens in the Indochina area, if Laos, now partly invaded, and Thailand, fall before Communist invaders, the U.S. may be forced into one or all three of the following actions:

1. Sharply increase war-supply shipments to French forces in Indochina, sufficient to knock defense department budget plans into a cocked hat.

2. Cancel plans to return two U. S. divisions to the U. S. from Korea.

3. Intervene in Indochina to buttress the French fighting forces.

Diplomats and defense planners are silent for the moment, but on the record here is what we are publicly committed to do in the Indochina area against the Communists, if public statements by U. S. and Allied government officials mean what they say.

Secretary Dulles, speaking last September, said:

"There is the risk that, as in Korea, Red China might send its army into Indo-China. The Chinese Communist regime should realize that such a second aggression could not occur without grave consequences which might not be confined to Indochina. I say this soberly in the hope of preventing another aggressor miscalculation."

—:—

ON DECEMBER 28 Secretary Dulles had this to say:

"We regard the war in Korea as part of the worldwide effort of Communism to conquer freedom. Chinese Communist aggression was not confined to Korea. It extended to Indochina in the south."

Taken together, the first statement warns the Chinese Reds to stay out of Indochina or else; the second, that they are already there.

The President last April stated that the Korean armistice should not be agreed to merely to release Chinese Communist troops for an attack elsewhere.

Following the armistice agreement the 16 nations involved on the Allied side issued a declaration, which states in part:

"We are of the opinion that the armistice must not result in jeopardizing the restoration or the safeguarding of peace in any other part of Asia."

—:—

TO MAKE MATTERS more ticklish at the moment the French, with U.S. blessing, recently declared that the associated states of Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam, under French guidance, can have their independence.

Secretary Dulles was more cagy on this one. Stating that the U.S. "rejoices" over the move, he made no further commitments on what we might do if these areas were to face the loss of their prospective independence from Communist Chinese aggression.

Just what U.S. officials will have to say about the latest Communist Chinese attack—or what action will be taken, especially if Thailand is assaulted—depends on the ability of the French and native forces to withstand the blow.

The last thing the administration wants to do is to appear before an opening session of Congress with another "wrong war in the wrong place at the wrong time" on its hands, as the former joint chiefs of staff chairman, Omar Bradley, characterized the fighting in Korea.

ON THE BASIS of the secretary of State's remarks, and those of the President to a lesser extent, there is only one interpretation available at this time to a course of action if the disaster in Indochina grows:

Full—scale help with more money, more war machines, and possible fighting men. Otherwise much that has been done in the area will be sacrificed along with the freedom of more of our friends. friends.

The Same Sad Results

By MARK DANA

Not until well into January will the full accident toll of the Christmas-New Year season be computed, but already dispatches from over the country are telling of this or that automobile mishap, burned home. home accident or other misfortune.

The warnings and pleas voiced for long before Christmas were in normal tradition; they urged special care against fires; they begged pedestrians to look both ways before crossing streets; they implored auto drivers to keep sober and drive cautiously, and this year a solemn responsibility of party hosts to dissuade tippling guests from trying to drive home was particularly stressed.

Yet already the accounts of mishaps of many kinds show that these common sense adjurations were not heeded by a great many. Perhaps the tradition and routine of the reminders minimized their acceptance. By the middle of January, thousands of persons instantly killed during the holiday period will have been buried; thousands more who were injured will have died; uncounted more, some of them innocent victims of other persons, will be crippled or scarred.

These things seem inevitable in any holiday period, but they are particularly dismaying when they focus on Christmas, and on the New Year's beginning when noble resolutions are abundant.

It helps naught now to take a "told you so" attitude. The most earnest warners are the most sorrowful. Also, it is too late for the victims to learn a lesson from the counsel ignored; they will hear no more advice, at least on this earth. Yet maybe those who got through the holiday period safely can resolve to be just as careful throughout 1954. Therein lies fair assurance of welcoming 1955.

From Our Readers

To The Star:

I want to congratulate you on the Christmas Eve edition of your paper, and thank you for the numerous reports and articles of a religious nature, so much in keeping with the spirit of the day.

The report from Bethlehem telling of its three dates for Christmas intrigued me, but the article that inspired me most was the one by the Cech fugitive Joseph Pisarik. As a minister I am naturally interested in proclaiming the Gospel as widely as possible.

Your paper goes into many a home that the churches do not reach, and by publishing articles like the one referred to above is doing much to recommend a religious philosophy of life. Thank you again.

REV. J. PAUL GOEBEL

To The Star:

I would like to express my gratitude to the Marion Fire Department for its alertness during a recent fire in my residence.

In the past, whenever the fire engines raced through town, I like many others wondered if it was necessary to create so much noise, but like so many things in life I had to go through the experience of a fire to realize how much it means to have the fire trucks answer your calls so quickly.

The firemen worked with such swiftness that it saved my furniture from any damage, except smoke.

We can be thankful for our fine fire division and the fire fighters, and in the future when I see them race through town I'll know they are saving someone a lot of expense, grief and in many instances someone's life.

So once again, I thank the fire division and the fire fighters.

But Have a Happy New Year

Whether from malice aforethought or uncurbed appetite, New Year's morning dawns on more aching heads, ice packs and worthless resolutions than all other holidays combined. It's a sort of annual armistice, clambake and Roman carnival wrapped into one.

All is understandable save the resolutions to never do it again. These monumental lies date back centuries,, to gluttonous, puff-eyed old squires, bolstered in canopied beds at high noon on New Year's Day, trying to remember who brought them home last night.

They thought they had troubles. They didn't have to remember where they left their automobile, nor ponder what they'd drunk—like we do. Let's look in on a 17th Century scene —two of them.

AT THE VILLAGE pub or snowbound tavern an ordinary run of mine esquire brought in the new year among his neighbors and hired help. With these minions he got crocked on strong ale, and with each succeeding tankard proclaimed increasing affection for the common man.

But the landed gentry, to whom the aforementioned bowed and scraped, gathered 'round the wassail bowl; an exclusive group of community overlords, in flaming red jackets, knee breeches, ruffled cuffs and powdered wigs.

THESE GODS of creation started off with more dignity and less speed than the boys at the pub, but ere the clock tolled 12 the only difference in the scenes at the pub and the wassail party was the color of the coats.

By New Year's noon there wasn't even that difference. All of celebrating Merrie Old England, witch-pestered New England, New Amsterdam and Podunk was towel-headed, quiverboweled and repentant. Thus, methinks, came about the New Year's resolution.

Nothing less dependable has been handed down to man than the pagan promise of the perennial New Year's penitent.

YET ALL PEOPLE do not float the new year in. It was a long time ago, but I remember going to Watch Night service with my mother; the one night of the year when I stayed up past midnight—as I said, "a long time ago."

Watch Night service was a far cry from pubs and wassail parties. Good people prayed, sang hymns and gave thanks for blessings bestowed upon them.

These people didn't have so much to repent, or if they did it was a matter between them and God, and they didn't blat out meaningless resolutions and put themselves on the spot. Not on New Year's Eve, nor New Year's noon.

—:—

ALL THE SAME it isn't true that all who celebrate are the goats, and those who don't, the lambs. It's just that those who do are the suckers—at today's prices.

Men choose their own ways to cheer their hearts and "no sky is heavy if the heart be light." It is for no one to say how his neighbor shall brighten his way, when he doesn't darken another's path in the process.

So, with hopes that you don't drive to the party, and lose me a valued customer, I wish you your kind of Happy New Year!

Gas Explodes, Girl, 14, Is Hospitalized

Peggy Edwards, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards of 13½ Copeland Ave., was burned about the face and hands yesterday when escaped gas in the oven at their home exploded. Peggy had been broiling meat in the oven of the stove when the fire went out. Noticing the fire was out, she started to relight it, forgetting to turn the oven off and let it air out first.

Police Report Five Accidents; Only One Hurt

Woman Suffers Slight Back Injury in Crash; No Mishaps in County

A Marion woman was injured slightly in one of five traffic accidents reported today by Marion police. The state highway patrol and the Marion County sheriff's office reported no mishaps on state and county roads.

Hurt in the accident in the city was Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards of 1121 W. Center St. She required no medical treatment for a back injury received in a collision in front of her residence at 10:37 p.m. last night, police reported.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Robert L. Honacker, 23, also of 1121 W. Center St. Police reported Honacker was headed west on W. Center St. and was attempting to make a left turn into the driveway of his residence when another car also westbound struck the rear of his car.

Jack L. Wilson, 19, of 850 Oak Grove Ave., driver of the other car, said he was attempting to pass Honacker and had flashed his lights indicating his intention to pass. The impact sent both cars out of control to the left side of the street into the yard of Honacker's residence. Both cars were damaged, police said.

A bike rider escaped injury when he was struck by an automobile on E. Church St. at the Nic Nac Sandwich Shop at 7:14 a.m. today. David Kelly, 15, of 205 Leader St. was riding west on E. Church St. and was struck by a car driven by John Cantrell, 29, of 167 Latourette St. making a left turn into the alley beside the sandwich shop. Police said there was no damage to the bike or the car and David was not hurt.

A collision at the Marion County Fairgrounds entrance on E. Fairground St. damaged cars driven east by Donald E. Cox, 28, of Bucyrus and Jack V. Chevalier Jr., 29, of 513 Scranton Ave., police said. Cox was attempting to make a left turn into the fairgrounds at the same time Chevalier was attempting to pass, police reported. The resulting collision sent Chevalier's car out of control into a utility pole on the left side of the street. There was damage to both cars and to the pole.

An Anthony Laundry truck parked in front of 196 E. Center St. was damaged when struck by a car driven by John Daniel Halbert, 22, of near Green Camp at 3:14 p.m. yesterday. Our 2½% SAVINGS CERTIFICATES First Introduced in 1953, Have Met With Instant Approval and Form Another Important Service of

The Marion County Bank

The Marion County Bank now brings you a completely different method of saving, which offers you a real opportunity to plan a savings program to fit your particular needs—and to earn more interest!

Here's how these certificates work—and some of the many advantages they offer you, as a saver.

1. You may purchase these certificates in any multiple of $100.
2. Interest starts on the date of issue, and every six months we will mail you an interest check. You may deposit your interest check to your checking or savings account.
3. For the first two years the money has been on deposit, interest payments will be made at the rate of 2%. At the end of two years an additional ½% interest will be paid for each of these years. After two years, interest payments will be made at the rate of 2½%.
4. You may cash your certificates during the first two years, by giving us three months' written notice. This is required by federal banking regulations. On or after two years, these regulations require six months' notice. Accrued interest will be paid for each six month period.
5. These certificates may be used as collateral for loans up to the full face value of the certificates —at rates fixed by the Federal Reserve Board.

The high rates of interest on Marion County Bank Savings Certificates are consistent with sound banking practice for two fundamental reasons. First—we can put this longer-term money to work in longer-term, higher-yield investments. Second —it is more economical to handle this money because of fewer deposits and withdrawals.

Regular Marion County Bank Savings Accounts are still available for your convenience. These savings accounts fill several important needs. Since we have always paid these accounts on demand, we must invest this money in shorter-term, lower-yield investments. Therefore, they pay our established rate of 1% interest.

Whichever savings plan you select, The Marion County Bank stands ready to advise and serve you.

MISS BILLIE ANN BALDAUF and Lt. (j. g.) James H. Maynard repeated the double ring ceremony for their marriage Sunday afternoon in Emanuel Lutheran Church. For the ceremony, read at 3:30 o'clock, the altar was lighted with tapers held two seven-branch candelabra and vases held bouquets of white flowers. Holiday greenery completed the setting and marking the family pews were bows of white satin ribbon. The pastor, Rev. M. E. Hollensen, officiated.

As the guests were being seated Mrs. William Ackerman, organist, and Miss Joyce Wintringham, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Baldauf of King Ave. and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Maynard of Dayton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace. The fitted lace bodice over satin was fashioned with a drop-shoulder yoke accented with a slit v-neckline and the lace sleeves tapered to points over the hands. Buttons trimmed the back of the bodice and the circular skirt extended into a train. Her finger-tip veil of English illusion fell from a cloche of matching lace outlined in scallops of pearl and she carried a bouquet of white pompons centered with a white orchid. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls.

Ham Tops List Of New Year's Food Specials

Both Smoked, Fresh Cuts Featured; Turkey And Chicken Plentiful

By The Associated Press

Smoked and fresh hams for New Year's Day dinner head the list of specials in the nation's food stores this week.

A typical chain said it is cutting smoked ham prices by six cents a pound and fresh ham by four cents. Stores also will feature turkeys and roasting chickens, just in case you didn't get your fill at Christmas.

Meanwhile, other meat prices are tending higher. In some areas, sirloin steak, rib roast and leg of lamb are up four to six cents a pound. Pork chops will jump from six to as much as 12 cents a pound in many stores.

Meat men said that beef, lamb, pork and veal have moved higher on the wholesale markets in the last few days. Poultry, which had fallen sharply in recent weeks, also is edging up again. However, most stores said they will leave their poultry prices unchanged this week.

To go with that New Year's ham, you'll find cabbage on the bargain list. Onions and potatoes also are rated outstanding buys in the produce line. The less widely-used escarole is another.

Described as good buys are lettuce, sweet potatoes and greens, including such regional items as kale and collard.

Vegetables turning lower at wholesale this week include beets, broccoli, corn and tomatoes. Higher are Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, cucumbers and eggplant.

Citrus fruits generally are higher at wholesale. Fruit specialists list apples, pears and avocados are your best bets.

St. Louis 'Cotton Crop' Found by Boll Weevils

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP) — George F. Heege s the only "cotton farmer" in this area, but boll weevils still managed to find and eat his crop.

"They must have rushed right up from the South when word got around," Heege said.

But in his case there was no serious financal loss.

Heege, a 62-year-old attorney, owns and works his "plantation" near suburban Valley Park. He planted it in cotton just to see if it would grow in this locality. It did.

"Got better than a bale to the acre last year," Heege said proudly.

He has just one acre.

Driver Scolds Engineer For Not Dimming Light

PERU, Ind. (AP)—The engineer on a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train saw a red warning signal flash on and stopped his train.

But an automobile kept coming down the track. It didn't stop until it had nosed up to the locomotive. The driver got out and began scolding the engineer for not dimming his light.

He was still scolding when Sheriff J. M. Behle arrived and arrested him on charges of drunken driving and public intoxication.

The driver, Charles O. Windoffer, 59, paid fines and charges totaling $129.50 in City Court yesterday.

Army Cancels Shell Contract

$8 Million Order Lost By Cleveland Concern

CLEVELAND (AP)—As the result of an investigation which began nearly two months ago, an ordnance contract for about $8,000,000 worth of shells has been cancelled at a Bryant Heater plant here.

The Cleveland Ordnance District announced the cancellation of a contract for "the 90 millimeter high explosive shell, T91."

The investigation was ordered when defective shells were found in shipments to the army. Bryant Heater, a division of Affiliated Gas Equipment, Inc., employs about 300 workers.

The ordnance announcement hinted some legal action might be taken. It said the contract was cancelled "because of alleged contract and statutory violations, and considerations of government action in connection therewith are now pending in the Department of the Army and Department of Justice."

Viet Nam, one of Indochina's three Associated States, holds all but 5,000,000 of the region's estimated 27,000,000 population.

1953 Top Year For Electricity, Report Reveals

Ohio Edison Head Says Industry Set Record; 1954 Forecast Is Good

A year-end report of the electric industry in America in 1953 was released today by Walter H. Sammis, president of the Ohio Edison Co. and president of the Edison Electric Institute.

In the electric business, 1953 proved to be another successful year, with generation of electricity reaching the one-half trillion mark, more revenue, higher sales of common stock, and more construction expenditures than ever before.

Production of electricity reached a total of 513 billion kilowatt hours in 1953, an increase of more than 43 billion over 1952.

Over 1,400,000 new customers were added to the industry during the year, bringing the total to 49,900,000. Nearly 98 per cent of all homes in the country now have electrical service. The increase during the year was due to the construction of new homes.

Total average consumption of electricity by householders was 2,355 kilowatt hours, more than double the figures of nine years ago. Nine electrical appliances are now found in almost every home. They are radios, irons, refrigerators, clocks, washers, toasters, vacuum cleaners, coffee makers, and television.

The increase in the use of electric ranges, dryers, water heaters, and freezers has been high, and is expected to continue.

Despite a rise in the cost of living, the average price per kilowatt hour sold to domestic customers dropped to 2.75 cents. Average price in 1882 was 24 cents.

Rate increases are in the offing though, as commissions have granted adjustments to 351 applicants since the war. In 1953, 35 applicants were granted permission to raise rates.

By the end of the year, 93 per cent of all farms in the country had electric service, the figure reaching the total of 5,010,000. All but two per cent of the nation's occupied farms have electricity installed or available.

Sales of electricity during the year totaled 382 billion kilowatt hours, an increase of 11.5 per cent over 1952. The kilowatt hour increase was greater than in any preceding year.

A record installation of 9,200,000 kilowatts of generating capability was made during the year, bringing the generating capability of the electrical industry to approximately 93,500,000 kilowatts, double that of 1942.

In 1954, electric companies have announced their intentions of more construction, bringing the total capability of the industry to 107,600,000 kilowatts.

Expenditures in 1953 for construction totaled $2,850,000,000 compared with $2,599,000,000 in 1952. The outlook for 1954 is for construction costs in the industry to reach three billion dollars.

Total sales of common electric stock exceeded that of 1952 by 25 per cent and was slightly less than the combined sales of common stock during the period from 1946 to 1949.

For the fourth straight year, taxes accounted for most of the expenses. Wages and salaries were the second largest item, and fuel was the third major expense.

Increased efficiency in the operation of fuel burning generators lowered the average amount of coal used per kilowatt hour to 1.065 pounds.

HUNTER KILLED

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Budd D. Brewer, 63, of Cleveland, was killed accidentally while hunting yesterday near Bellville. A searching party of 40 men found Brewer's body in a field after he had been missing more than 10 hours from the farm home of a friend, Melvin Mowery, where he was visiting.

WAITS ALONE. Cute little 17-months-old Patricia Ann Kuntz sits in a courthouse chair in Media, Pa., as her aunt, Mrs. R. J. Stackhouse, Newton Square, Pa., and a grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kovacs, Grand Haven, Mich., each seek custody of the tot. The tot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kuntz, were murdered at Grand Haven last April when a neighbor ran berserk. The father was shot and the mother stabbed to death. A Michigan court awarded custody of the child to Mrs. Stackhouse, the murdered woman's only sister, but now the paternal grandmother wants the child.

Defense

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) termed it "a bad policy."

On the other hand, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) said the provisions for liberalized tax write-offs and for setting aside a fixed percentage of some procurement for surplus labor areas "are helpful as far as they go, and I am happy they have President Eisenhower's support." Hagerty said as much as 30 per cent of some procurement items—army blankets, for example—might be set aside.

But Saltonstall added in a statement that the "abandonment of the bid-matching procedure was a blow to the program . . ."

He referred to a feature of the Truman policy, not revived, which permitted the government to ask a contractor in a surplus labor area with the most unemployment. Other features include the encouragement of bids from qualified contractors in areas of unemployment, and the encouragement of subcontracts in such areas.

Not Prompted

Hagerty said announcement of the program was not prompted by recent statements by some economists and Congress members that the country is in a recession. Eisenhower's statement said he was in "complete agreement" with the anti-unemployment moves outlined in November by Flemming.

Sen. Maybank, in a statement released here, declared that Eisenhower had turned his back "on campaign promises of state rights, more freedom for private business and greater economies in the government," and he continued:

"It's impossible for me to understand how the President, in the face of the record made in the Congress during the last session, and in the face of assurances given by the administration to the majority leader, Sen. Knowland (Calif), could take such action as he took."

He referred to this chronology of events last July:

The Senate adopted 62-25 an amendment to the defense appropriation bill forbidding the Defense Department from letting any contracts to other than a low bidder, even if a slightly higher bid came from an area with substantial unemployment, for "correcting or preventing economic dislocations."

The amendment was drastically revised in a Senate-House conference, to bar preferential treatment in cases where there was a "price differential."

When the bill returned to the Senate for final passage, Maybank again offered his amendment. But he did not press it after Knowland assured him that "I will personally take up the matter with the President of the United States, because . . . the vote of the Senate on the question was so overwhelming that the administration should not fly in the face of the vote by the Senate."

Fight

His universal pension plan would end the present dual program of aid to the aged. The OASI program provides retirement or death benefits based on contributions from workers and employers.

A separate program has provided more than one billion dollars annually in federal welfare grants to some 2½ million aged and dependent children, based on their need. State and local governments also contribute to this program and administer it locally.

States Could Help

Curtis would abolish the federal portion of this program, but state and local governments could provide welfare payments to the needy if they wished.

Since the welfare program is included in the regualr federal budget, while social security trust fund operations are not, this would give a billion-dollar boost to the GOP drive to balance the regular federal budget.

New President Of Philippines Assumes Office

Ramon Magsaysay, Republic's 3rd Chief Executive, Sworn In

MANILA (AP) — Peppy Ramon Magsaysay, a 46-year-old blacksmith's son, pledged an "honest, efficient and constructive government" today before a cheering throng of 100,000 that saw him sworn in as the third president of this seven-year-old republic.

"For this young and vigorous nation of ours, nothing is really impossible," the staunch former defense secretary declared in his inaugural address.

After solemnly taking the oath of office, Magsaysay outlined a seven-point program aimed at raising living conditions, strengthening internal security and wiping out the Communist-directed Huk rebel movement.

He called for strong ties with the United States and declared that relations with friendly Asian nations must be tightened to meet common problems.

"But," he warned, "to the leaders of the Communist conspiracy who would deliver this country and its people to a foreign power, this I say:

"I shall use all the forces at my command to the end that the sovereign authority of the government shall be respected and maintained. There can be no compromise with disloyalty."

The new president, who rode his fame as Huk-busting defense secretary into the highest office in the land, urged Communist rebels "who have been misled by the lies of the Kremlin" to surrender.

Magsaysay broke with the administration of President Elpidio Quirino in a dispute over the resettlement of rebels who gave themselves up.

As standard bearer of the opposition Nacionalista party, he won a smashing victory over Quirino in November's election for a four-year term.

Magsaysay, who spoke in picturesque Luneta Square overlooking Manila Bay, outlined these seven aims of his administration:

1. "Positive, energetic measures to improve the living conditions of our fellow citizens in the barrios (villages) and neglected rural areas and of laborers in our urban and industrial centers."

2. Purge the nation's land tenure system of "injustice and oppression."

3. Channel the benefits of economic and industrial development programs to the common people to raise their standards of living.

4. Spend United States aid funds "honestly and to the best advantage."

5. Cooperate with the United Nations "in seeking collective security and a just world peace."

6. Cooperate with Asian nations in meeting common problems.

7. Strengthen and safeguard internal security and "live up to all our obligations under the mutual defense treaty with the United States."

75 Restaurateurs Still Haven't Filed For Serving Permit

Some 75 restaurants and other places where food is served failed to make application for licenses during the two-day distribution of applications at the Marion city department of health.

Dr. John T. Gruber, inspector, said today that as of 4 p.m. yeserday—when the distribution of applications was scheduled to end—a total of about 90 applications were received.

So that the remaining 75 food service establishments in the city may have full opportunity to obtain their applications, the department of health will continue the distribution today and tomorrow, Dr. Gruber said.

He warned that it is state law that all such establishments including soda fountains, taverns, lunchstands, hotels, clubs, churches or any other place where unpackaged food is served must have a license to continue business after Jan. 1.

The license may be issued only after application is made and the premises are inspected for cleanliness and proper and sanitary handling of the food, he added.

Distribution hours for applications at the health department offices, Room 3, second floor, at city hall are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

FOUR DRIVERS FINED

Four persons were each fined $15 and costs on various traffic charges when they appeared in Marion Municipal Court today. All were arrested by city police. Those fined and the charges against them were Raymond E. Bonsel, 31, of 624½ E. Center St., speeding; Harold L. Morton, 20, of 755 Woodrow Ave., reckless driving; John P. Courtright, 57, of 205 S. Greenwood St., speeding; and Arthur R. Vizi, 44, of 175 Pearl St., speeding.

Approximately 117,000 officers and enlisted men were used by the Army to operate posts, camps, stations, hospitals, ports and depots during the past year.

New Year's Eve Revelry To Be Costly in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Taking your best girl out for New Year's Eve will require the major part of a $100 bill at some of New York's swankier night spots.

Or, if you prefer, you can visit the bar around the corner and buy a 10-cent beer to watch the revelry on television.

The minimum tab at the Hotel Pierre's Cotillion Room will be $27.50 per person. For that you will get dinner, a show, noisemakers, dancing and a champagne cocktail.

All Adds Up

To the $55 for two, add the price of all other drinks, tips, tranportation, a snack on the way home and maybe a headache remedy.

The Pierre's price includes the 20 per cent luxury tax. At most other places, the quoted price does not include the tax, which must be added.

The Hotel Plaza's basic charge will be $25 per person in its Persian Room for dancing, dinner, favors and a show. But you can go to its Rendezvous Room for $22.50 each.

At the Waldorf-Astoria, the price will be $25 in the Empire Room, $15 in the Peacock Alley cafes, and $7.50 in adjoining cafes.

The Hotel New Yorker will provide its ice show, supper, funny hats, noisemakers and dancing for $13.50, including tax.

Night clubs generally will have minimum charges, which usually can be used up either in food or drink.

Minimum and Cover

The minimum is not to be confused with a cover charge, roughly equivalent to the price of admission, which some places will apply in addition to a minimum.

The Viennese Lantern, for instance, will have a $10 minimum plus a $2 cover charge.

Ten dollar minimums will be in force at the Embers, the Bon Soir, the Tavern - on - the - Green and numerous other places. The Hickory House will have an $8 minimum, the Village Vanguard $7.50, Eddie Condon's $5 and Nick's Jazz Spot in Greenwich Village, $4.

Some places will have "open house," meaning that regular prices will prevail without covers or minimums.

The Edison Hotel, in the heart of New York's Gay White Way, is refusing to rent any rooms or suites for New Year's parties.

Irwin H. Kramer, the owner, says such parties would disturb the sleep of traveling salesmen who have to be up and on the job the next day.

"There are plenty of places people can go to hold a party in New York but few places they can go for a good night's sleep," says Kramer.

Indicted

grand jury said Shoulders' testimony "as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue and false in that the suitcases mentioned therein containing ransom money were not taken into the police station at the time and in the manner alleged."

Dolan, who was indicted on a charge of perjury two weeks ago, also had testified the suitcases were brought to the Newstead police station along with Hall. Other witnesses, who were in the station at the time Hall was booked, testified they saw no suitcases brought in with him.

Police records show Hall was booked at 8:57 p.m. Kansas City and St. Louis authorities declined to say when the suitcases first were reported seen by persons other than Shoulders and Dolan. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch has reported, however, that some policemen at the station said they first saw the suitcases at 11:30 p.m.

Quits in Anger

Shoulders, a member of the force 27 years, resigned in anger after a St. Louis police board began an investigation into the handling of the money last October.

He received his tip that Hall was in St. Louis from a taxicab driver, John Hager. Hall had hired Hager's cab during a free-spending spree.

Both Hall and Mrs. Heady claimed they knew nothing about the missing ransom money and Hall said he had more than $590,000 in his hotel room when arrested.

Shoulders, in testifying before the grand jury, said he used precaution in bringing the suitcases into the police station because he knew he was on an important case.

Wanted To Get Woman

"I knew good and well the fact that Dolan and I come in and used the precaution was going to cause them gassy policemen to become suspicious that we had something big and I didn't want that because I didn't have the woman (Mrs. Heady)," the officer testified.

Mrs. Heady was arrested after Hall had told officers where to find her.

Shoulders said Dolan took in one suitcase and placed it in his office in the station. He told the jurors he brought in the other suitcase.

Akron Man, Two Others on Missing Plane Feared Lost

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Air searchers again scanned coastal lands from Florida to North Carolina today looking for a Navy plane missing with three or more persons aboard.

A radio operator at Brunswick, Ga., reported hearing it broadcast "May Day," the international distress signal, repeatedly Monday night.

Searchers concentrated yesterday on the area within a 40 to 50-mile radius of Brunswick. Navy planes from Jacksonville, and Savannah, Ga., Civil Air Patrol planes, blimps from Glynco Base mile radius of Brunswick.

The Navy at Akron listed the crewmen as Lt. Vernon H. King, Akron, pilot; Capt. Alex Dutkin, Franklin, Pa., co-pilot; and J. M. Paschall, Pensacola, Fla., aviation machinist mate.

Wife in Akron Sees Husband Killed in Crash

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Restaurant operator Thomas G. Lucas was killed in a head-on collision early today while his bride of four months watched helplessly from another car.

Mrs. Marie Lucas, following her husband home from the drive-in restaurant in her own car, saw him suddenly veer across Ohio 224 at the south end of Akron and smash into an oncoming automobile.

Lucas, 34, a former University of Akron basketball star, died of a skull fracture. His wife said she believed he either had a heart attack or a dizzy spell as he had complained of not feeling well.

The occupants of the other car, Paul Zahoric, 38, of Akron, and Mrs. Mable Juszli, 36, of Barberton, were taken to City Hospital. He had cuts and bruises and she suffered a broken leg.

Lucas starred on the University of Akron basketball team when it had an 18-3 record in the 1942-43 season. After military duty during World War II, he returned to Akron and played for the university in the 1946-47 season. He was the sponsor of several local cage teams here.

YWCA LEADER DIES

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services for Dr. Helen F. Barnes, 90, of Findlay, will be held here Thursday. She was active in YWCA work for many years in the United States and abroad and was a former member of the World Peace Commission of the Methodist Church. She died yesterday.

in his legislative program to meet any valid objections from the Democrats.

"I know the President will want to hear what those objections are," Ferguson said. "It will not be too late for changes in the message. The President isn't doing this just as a decoy or something."

Russell, however, left no doubt he may oppose some of the things Eisenhower is expected to ask of the Congress.

"It is questionable that we can deal with all the matters floating around," Russell said, noting that presidential commissions have been working on many controversial issues.

He renewed notice he would oppose statehood for Hawaii, already passed by the House and certain to cause lengthy debate if called up in the Senate, as GOP leaders say it will be.

The Georgian offered to support a five-billion-dollar increase in the present national debt limit of 275 billions if Eisenhower says it is necessary. He said he would oppose a 15-billion increase, asked at the last session and stalled in the Senate.

Absentees

By George Sokolsky

Most Americans continue to be shocked that 22 American boys in Korea wish to remain in the Communist world. The number is a tiny fraction of the total number of American troops in Korea. We have been given no figures on how many American troops stationed in West Germany and Austria have gone Marxist. There must be some.

SOKOLSKY

We have not been informed about the estimates of between 500 and 900 Americans who have disappeared into Communist territory in China or Siberia or North Korea. Have they become Communists? What has become of them?

(Incidentally, if your son is still missing in Korea, write your senator or representative, and if you please, let me have a copy of the letter.)

—:—

AS REGARDS the 22 young men who choose to remain in Communist territory, why not let them have their choice without further to-do? It is absurd to say that they do not know what they do. By any calculation, they are adults.

They have gone through the maturing experience of war. They must have argued the question hundreds of times in their prison whether they prefer to be Communists or Americans.

Many psychological factors and practical considerations may enter into their decision.

A soldier may have hated his father or his mother; he may have been a misfit in his home community. Such a boy might be tempted to change his world.

Another might have left a girl behind who married someone else while he went a-warring. Such a young man could romanticize himself into a Werther. Or he might have recaptured his love in a companionship with a Chinese or Korean or a Russian girl who comforted him exotically

—:—

IT IS ALSO possible that some of these young men have been converted to the Marxist church, perhaps because they have no church of their own.

We register our troops as Catholics, Protestants, Jews, etc., for purposes of burial if they are killed. But this every really competent chaplain has discovered: Large numbers of troops engage their first religious experience in war; that the challenge of imminent death or the pain of wounds, or the loneliness in a lost world, or the yearning for the comfort of a mother can only be requited by religion, not only by faith but almost by a personal, an intimate relationship to God that comes in prayer.

It is for this reason that the chaplain's service is so important for the morale of our troops.

THERE ARE uniformed simpletons among the brass in our armed services who do not understand what they themselves have not experienced, and they are now engaged in breaking down the Chaplain Corps.

If we are to understand the 22, we need to know their religious background, for only then can we understand the character, the intellectual and spiritual nature of these young men.

If they are altogether without a religious background, Marxist homology as contrasted with Christian theology will appeal to them.

Why limit this consideration to these 22 boys? Take such a case as George S. Wheeler. Here is a man of education and of position.

—:—

IN A LETTER to the Civil Service Commission, dated October 11, 1945, he wrote:

"I have been in the service of the U. S. Government for more than eleven years, since August 1934. During this period I have served in the National Labor Relations Board, the Department of Labor, the War Production Board, the Office of Economic Warfare and its successor, the Foreign Economic Administration.

"During the past eleven months I have served overseas in the uniform of the United States Army with the assimilated rank of colonel.

"Officials of all of these agencies familiar with my record, including my commanding general in Berlin, have expressed their readiness to support me against any accusations that may have been made reflecting on my character or loyalty.

"I want to take this occasion personally to assert my absolute allegiance to the United States and its democratic form of government."

Despite this affirmation, George S. Wheeler is now somewhere behind the Iron Curtain, have renounced the United States. What has caused him to change his views?

What attraction does Marxism have for such a man that the freedom of the United States does not have?

Rhodes Given More Backing For Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican leaders in eight more counties and two additional districts today added their endorsements to those for State Auditor James A. Rhodes as the Republican candidate for governor.

Rhodes, who has yet to announce, previously reported endorsements from leaders in 30 counties, including those in the 17th congressional district. That brought the total to 38.

The former Columbus mayor has indicated that he would yield to a broad "grass roots" draft to oppose Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche who has announced for a fifth two-year term subject to the May 4 primary election.

Latest to urge Rhodes' candidacy were these GOP chairmen: Walter Oxley, Sandusky County; Ray Bobo, Athens County; V. W. Filiatrault, Portage County; Joe Pierson, Preble County; Bill Batchelder, Medina County; L. K. Teatsorth, Ashtabula County; Albert L. Daniels, Highland County and Robert C. Rea, Madison County.

Two members of the Republican State Central and Executive Committees also backed Rhodes. One was Robert Peebles of the Sixth Congressional District, the other Robert L. Evans of the Eighth District.

Attorney General Seeking Reelection

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, 37, Marietta, today announced his candidacy for re-election to a third term on the Republican ticket.

The former speaker of the Ohio House said his office successfully disposed of 11,000 cases in the last year, more than during any previous comparable period. He also issued 3,400 opinions.

The last Legislature directed O'Neill to conduct a statewide narcotics investigation and make recommendations for controls to the next General Assembly; establish an anti-subversives division in his office, and create a division to enforce charitable trusts and to restrain their abuse.

Firemen Answer 2 Calls; No Damages

Marion city firemen were called out twice yesterday with only small loss reported in one blaze and none in the other.

An overheated chimney in the caretaker's lodge at Garfield Park caused an estimated $10 loss when it set fire to roof at 1:09 p.m. yesterday. Central station firemen answered the alarm and soon had the fire out. The lodge is occupied by Roland McGinty, resident caretaker at the park.

Central station firemen were also called out at 12:30 p.m. to a fire in some weeds in a vacant lot on Claridon Ave. just east of the city limits. The weeds were set on fire by a spark from a bonfire. There was no loss, firemen said.

Lewis on Move

By Victor Riesel

For the second time in 20 years, John L. Lewis may reshape the entire pattern of American politics and labor's dealings with the industrialists who employ its many millions.

RIESEL

Almost two decades ago, John L. launched CIO. Today, after scores of secret meetings and confidential talks with the most powerful men of labor, he once more has begun to move towards the creation of a massive labor federation in which he hopes neither George Meany nor Walter Reuther will have policy making power.

Lewis is eager to develop the tremendous metropolitan area of New York as his base of operations. That accounts for his move onto the port's docks.

THIS HE DID with the meticulous care he gives any of his major projects Just as he knows the coal industry down to its most minute detail, so Lewis knows the docks today. He has a list of 77 thugs he wants eliminated.

He has drawn up plans for a waterfront credit union to drive the money-lending racketeers off the piers. He has detailed a welfare and pension fund, and thus hopes to make a clean union of the swamps of the piers, as he did in the coal fields years ago.

This will give him a following of some 40,000 men in that area.

At the same time he has approved moves by his brother, Denny Lewis, to bring into the fold the wealthy Distributive, Processing and Office Workers Union, the controversial District 65, which claims it broke with the Communists last year.

This union has 40,000 members in New York's department stores and warehouses alone. It has thousands of other members in several major cities. It recently alarmed Texas officials and businessmen by invading the strategic oil center of Port Arthur.

AND THE DPOW is independent, for Walter Reuther has just told its leaders in Detroit that its interim affiliation with the CIO ends with the first of the year. Meanwhile, Denny Lewis has asked some political leaders to approach this union and urge it to join Lewis' District 50.

If it does, it brings in a huge treasury. It has 11 million dollars invested in Wall Street. It owns a small sky-scraper which houses a department store, restaurant and night club of its own .And it is investing in Florida real estate.

At the same time, Lewis has been talking with leaders of at least 10 other unions known to me—lending some of them considerable sums of money up to a quarter of a million dollars. And he has established the closest relations the Miners Union has ever had with David MacDonald's CIO Steelworkers Union and Dave Beck's Teamsters' Union.

WHAT MOTIVATES Lewis today? It can be accurately reported that in his 74th year, he is eager to see, and possibly lead, or have his friends lead, a powerful labor movement made up of all the nation's unionists—over 16,000,000 of them.

Earlier this year Lewis initiated certain moves to bring himself and AFL president George Meany together. Lewis wanted to move back into the AFL and made ready a United Mine Workers check for three months dues.

This, Lewis saw as the beginning of a merger of all labor, without Reuther playing much of a role. But George Meany had promised that he would deal with Reuther on unity and would not go back on his word.

Meany sent word that there would not be any private meetings in Lewis' favorite hotel, the Carleton in Washington, to prepare the way in for the man who is the cartoonists' delight. Lewis could come into the AFL, but not with any special honors, Meany indicated.

—:—

THEN IN RADIO, television and magazine interviews, Meany told the country that Lewis would not play any part in the unity negotiations between the AFL and CIO.

John L. is a man who never rings twice. He decided, instead, to go ahead with his plans to build a new third labor federation.

Specifically, it was said in the United Mine Workers headquarters, "The only way now to get a united labor movement, is to start a third labor movement."

John L. then got into his car, alone, and drove across the land, talking to labor leaders as he went.

When he saw his chance to take on the entire AFL in a fight on the waterfront, he moved. But only because he believed he could win and show that his prestige is still sufficiently grandiose to beat down the combined power of 1,000,000 AFL members — and Gov. Dewey. DEWEY.

—:—

LEWIS MAY thus not only beat some of his old labor enemies, but also some political ones in one operation.

Lewis knows, of course, that Meany and Gov. Dewey are close in this drive to clean up the waterfront. If he beats both of them, then John L., with no members in New York, becomes a power in the state and someone for the White House to reckon with, too.

With such a demonstration of prestige Lewis hopes that recruits will flock to his new labor coalition.

Free Dollars

By Laura Hobson

They've been giving away dollars in stony-hearted old New York, and I just heard about it—too late to get in on it myself.

HOBSON

But as you'll see, the same delightful idea is pretty sure to get another play, and to start up soon in other cities too, so I want to alert you to it.

The harder-outer was the 107-year-old East River Savings Bank and therefore it wasn't just youthful folly that accounts for the free money, but a brand new promotion scheme to add new depositors.

-:-

THE MONEY wasn't lucky bucks or bonanza bills or give away greenbacks, but an official entry of one dollar in a pale blue passbook with your name and address on it—an entry that became valid if you opened a new account with a first deposit of $10.00.

Since 10 per cent profits don't hang around many investments these days, this smart cookie of a bank figured the offer might get better results than the usual come-on of free piggy banks or wallets or other financial-type merchandise—and it figured right.

Over the Thanksgiving weekend, it sent out 200,000 such passbooks to individuals and families in various neighborhoods in and around New York, and by the close of business last Wednesday, 5,002 new accounts had been born, with new deposits totalling $337,838!

-:-

IN OTHER WORDS, 5,002 decoy dollars had bagged the bank over a third of a million deposited dollars.

Which isn't bad for decoys — whether for ducks or bucks.

The biggest bag on any single day was 2,000 new accounts, but it averaged out at 600 daily, with an average $67.54 per new saver.

One distinctly non-average saver responded by sending in $4,999 to round out that bonus dollar to an even $5,000, another opened two large accounts but declined the free dollar for each, and a few folks wisecracked about "just mail me the dough and call it quits."

-:-

BUT EXCEPTIONS aside, the novel scheme had so sensational a success that the bank's wires have been busy with calls from bankers as far away as Minnesota, asking for guidance and facts about starting the same or similar drives in other places.

I've just kept their wire busy too, asking whether their offer was ever to be repeated locally, how it started, and other such matters of high finance.

The conservative old East River Savings Bank told me it hadn't plunged in cold at all. Way back in February, it had tested the idea out on a smaller scale, using two separate come-on ideas—one a "certificate" worth a dollar, the other the passbook with that first entry already in and a letter starting, "Dear depositor."

-:-

WHETHER IT WAS that cozy "dear depositor," or the mercenary dollar is anybody's guess, but the passbook gimmick was so far out in front that a second test, in July, used the passbook only—and led straight to the big push just completed.

There will probably be more of the same in 1954, so citizens who missed the first opportunity may hear the same knock later on.

And, wherever you live, you might feel like starting the new year by dropping in at some bank in your own city or town or village and asking a vice-president or somebody whether he's heard the news about the East River.

I'm thinking of asking the same in a tactful letter addressed to the savings bond division of the U. S. Treasury in Washington.

New Concept of Tooth Decay Reported

By FRANK CAREY

BOSTON (AP)—A new concept of tooth decay—namely, that both food and bacteria are necessary for it to occur—was reported today to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)

The report resulted from allied research at Notre Dame, Harvard Dental School and the University of Chicago.

Dr. Frank J. Orland, of the latter institution, said rats were raised in a completely "germ-free" atmosphere in a unique laboratory for that purpose at Notre Dame. During their rearing, the rats were fed diets which ordinarily result in tooth decay. But none of the rats developed bad teeth.

The work at Harvard was described by Dr. Reidar F. Sognnaes.

At Harvard, rats were reared under normal laboratory conditions and therefore had bacteria in their mouths, just as man does under ordinary conditions of living.

The rats were fed the same kind of diets as the animals at Notre Dame—but they were fed through a stomach tube, so that the food never got in contact with their teeth.

Again, no rats developed tooth decay.

Said Dr. Orland:

"These two rather unique experiments together provide much-needed evidence which tends ta establish the basic concept that a living tooth can not decay in the complete absence of bacteria nor in the complete absence of food."

And Dr. Sognnaes declared:

"Further work on laboratory animals of exact hereditary and nutritional background and raised on synthetic diets of known composition offers real promise for testing the effect of specific food elements, drugs and other agents with potential decay preventive properties."

In another report on life among the rats, Dr. Otto Weininger, University of Toronto psychologist, said that rodents which were stroked and petted for a few minutes a day as baby-rats developed "significantly less heart damage and fewer stomach ulcers" under emotional stress as adult rats than did "non-gentled' creatures.

He offered no views, however, as to whether the same would hold true for humans.

Nye Is Candidate Again for Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— George D. Nye of Waverly announced today he would be a candidate in the Democratic primary next May for lieutenant governor, a post he held for three terms.

Nye, former Pike County judge, won the post in 1944, 1948 and 1950. He received the nomination again last year but failed to win election.

"In view of the strong trend now in existence," Nye said in his announcement, 'it appears likely that the next General Assembly will be Democratic. The presiding officer of the Ohio Senate should be of the same party."

Ohio's lieutenant governor presides over sessions of the senate.

Both houses of the last legislature were overwhelmingly Republican.

Other announced Democratic candidates for lieutenant governor are Herbert S. Duffy of Columbus, former attorney general, and John W. Donahey of Hudson, son of a former governor and unsuccessful candidate for the party's U.S. senatorial nomination last year.

WRONG MOVE

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Alderman Vincent Kotowski had to resign from the Common Council. After he was elected to represent Ward 10, he moved to Ward 7.

Whale Steak Is Good Eating, Biologist Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—You slice it about an inch thick and fry it quickly in butter, the biologist said. What have you got? Whale steak.

"Nutritious, juicy, soft, and high in protein," went on the biologist, Dr. Raymond M. Gilmore of the U. S. Fish and Wild Life Service.

Gilmore also told the Western Society of Naturalists yesterday that in creating a market for the meat lies the only hope for saving the whaling industry. He said vegetable oils have ruined the whale oil market.

Some whale meat, said Gilmore, is being shipped to Eastern markets from Norway and Iceland. It sells for 83 cents a pound, a price which can be greatly decreased if demand increases.

Fisherman, 104, Gets Holiday Card From Ike

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—William (Dad) Eddington still is reading and rereading a holiday greeting. It is from another fisherman, considerably younger than Dad's 104 years.

It was among 300 congratulatory messages that followed newspaper pictures showing Dad, an avid angler, convalescing from a fractured hip. It said:

"I have just learned how well you are recovering from the broken hip you suffered last summer. I hope your improvement continues and that you will be able to get back to your fishing next summer. My very best wishes . . . Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Dispatchers Hear Unfamiliar Voice On Loudspeaker

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dispatchers on the city police radio system were going about their work last night when an unfamiliar voice came out of a loudseaker: "Altitude 3,000 feet. Ceiling zero, Visibility zero. Coming in for a landing. Roger. Three MIGs at 3 o'clock. Watch 'em, Skipper"

The voice stopped when a dispatcher asked for the squad number and location of the radio car. But it came back on the air intermittently with Air Force talk and inquiries as to lunchtime.

After checking unused radio cars in the police parking lot and city garage, the dispatchers sent out the message:

"All cars—watch for a drunk in an unlocked squad car."

Pull-Out Time Uncertain, GIs In Korea Told

SEOUL (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor stood in a snow-covered Korean valley today and told 8th Army soldiers he did not know what two U. S. divisions would be leaving Korea or where or when they would go.

"The decision to transfer two divisions out," he said, "was a high-level move and I do not have the details. It may be weeks or months before the transfer is made."

President Eisenhower announced recently that the two divisions would be pulled out.

"Don't listen to rumors," Taylor told troops of the U. S. 25th Division's 27th Regiment. "As soon as we get authoritative news from the horse's mouth, we'll let you know."

Taylor said he thought that after the divisions to be transferred were known the "fair way to do it would be to send out the men who have been out here about 16 months and transfer the short-timers from the divisions to other divisions that are staying."

Prexies Drop 4th Straight, Lose to Ashland 78-55

Visitors' 6-5 Scoring Star Paves Way With 36 Points

By MIKE HUBER

Harding continued down the skids last night, bowing to a sharp-shooting Ashland squad 78-55.

The defeat marked the Prexies' fourth straight loss after the four-game win streak that opened the season.

Controls Boards

Ken Sidle, Ashland's 6-5 center, paced the Arrows to their sixth win in as many starts. Besides controlling both backboards, he racked up 36 points, hitting on 10 of his 19 shots from the floor and on 16 of 23 free throws.

Harding continued to foul Sidle in an attempt to tame the lanky all-state center. He took 23 of the 46 charity tosses given the Ashland team.

Ron Conroy and Max Kaelber hit for 10 apiece to lead the home team's scoring attack. Bob Hamor and Don Smith each accounted for nine points. After hitting 21 in the reserve contest. Lowell McFann came into the varsity game to add nine markers.

Larry Brewer and Max Messner turned in double figure scoring performances for the visitors, Bewer had 17 and Messner 14.

The sharp-eyed Ashland quintet hit on 25 of its 54 attempted field goals for a respectable 46 per cent. At the foul line it hit on 28 out of 46 tries.

The Prexies had a mere 27 per cent on their shots from the floor hitting on 20 out of 74. They had a 48 per cent record at the foul line, succeeding on 15 of 31 attempts.

Harding Keeps Pace

Harding kept up with the visitors throughout most of the first half. The Prexies had an 8-5 lead mid-way through the first quarter, but with Sidle pouring in 10, Ashland forged ahead to a 16-10 lead by the end of that period.

The Arrows led the rest of the way, although Harding narrowed the difference to 24-22 with the second period half over. By halftime Ashland had built its lead back up to six points, 35-29. The second half was all Ashland as the visitors gradually built up their lead, while Harding never once threatened to take command of the situation.

The reserve game provided more excitement as the Vice Presidents dropped a close one 52-50. The locals led most of the way and held a 37-33 lead as the game went into the final quarter.

At that point the Ashland jayvees got hot and tied the score at 46-all with 2:40 to go. The teams exchanged baskets with Ashland winning as Jack Diffendorfer sunk the clinching field goal with 12 seconds remaining.

McFann's 21 points was the top effort in the preliminary. Dick Rankin had 18 to lead the Ashland juniors.

3 Top Quintets Drop Decisions In Cage Action

NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the nation's top 10 basketball teams nursed fresh defeats today as tournament competition jammed the nation's gyms.

Two of the losses came in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N.C., where fourth-ranking Oregon State was beaten for the second straight night and Navy dethroned defending champion North Carolina State.

Tulane erased a nine-point halftime deficit and whipped Oregon State 74-70 despite a 23-point performance by 7-foot-3 Wade Halbrook which included 15 free throws. Fast-breaking Navy outran ninth-ranking N.C. State 85-75 with John Clune hitting for 27 points. The Middies connected on 40.2 per cent of their shots from the field.

Tenth-ranking Fordham folded before the superb performance of Bob Pettit and bowed to Louisiana State 65-49 in the Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans. Fordham trailed by 14 points in the first quarter but closed to within a single point before Pettit came off the bench to clinch the contest in the closing period. He scored 23 points.

Holy Cross, the country's No. 12 team, rushed past De Paul 79-55 in the other Sugar Bowl game. Togo Palazzi contributed 29 points.

Western Kentucky, No. 7, ran its winning streak to 11 games in an 81-78 struggle against Eastern Kentucky and advanced to the finals of the Kentucky Invitation at Louisville. Western will meet Louisville, 61-56 conqueror of Xavier of Ohio.

Rice, No. 16, squeezed into the Southwest Conference final after an 80-79 overtime battle against Southern Methodist. Wyoming, No. 20, won its first-round game against Cincinnati 64-54 in the All-College show at Oklahoma City.

Harness Horsemen To Organize Jan. 12

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Harness Horsemen's Assn., composed of about 200 owners, trainers and drivers, will meet in Columbus' Neil House Jan. 12 to elect permanent officers and adopt a constitution.

C. I. Powell of Springfield, temporary president, announced the meeting today. He said action at the January session will make the new organization eligible for recognition by the U.S. Trotting Assn. that supervises harness racing throughout the nation.

Powell, a former state senator, is a horse owner and driver.

New Problems Pester Munn, MSC Gridders

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Michigan State football Coach Biggie Munn had a couple of small worries to pester him today as he prepared for his Rose Bowl showdown with UCLA.

These were:

1—Michigan State won't be allowed a workout Thursday on the Rose Bowl turf.

2—Munn just realized today that probably most of the third quarter and assuredly the fourth period will be played under lights.

On the first point, Munn asked for a Thursday workout at the Rose Bowl.

He likes to accustom his team to any strange setting and to let them get the feel of the turf.

"I didn't think it was an unreasonable request," he said.

Munn received a polite but firm "no" and didn't make an issue of it. He was told by Lathrop Leishman, chairman of the Tournament of Roses Football Committee, that it just wasn't the custom because the field was supposed to be in top shape for the game.

On the second point, Munn realized belatedly that much of the second half of the game might be played under lights.

This particular MSC squad has never operated under the arcs. And white footballs aren't allowed.

UCLA has played several of its games with the artificial lighting and presumably would have a slight advantage.

Munn quickly shifted practice plans to give his team a long late afternoon and evening drill under the arcs. The last time MSC operated with the light was in 1949 against Arizona. That score was 75-0 for Michigan State.

Heavy Rainfall Dims Hopes of Georgia Tech

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bobby Dodd, Georgia Tech football coach, is convinced he will have two opponents in the Sugar Bowl game Friday—the West Virginia team and the weatherman.

Dodd, seeking his fifth straight bowl victory, ranks the two opponents about on an even basis right now.

"I just know that West Virginia is going to keep pushing us back and back, like Notre Dame did, and keep control of that ball," he said today.

"And if this weather doesn't clear up soon and give the field a chance to dry we will look terrible out there."

Dodd's gridders depend almost entirely on speed and quick opening plays for their gains. A heavy turf would slow down their style. New Orleans has had 48 hours of soggy weather, with most 2 inches of rain during that time.

The playing field at Tulane Stadium, where the game will be played, has no cover. However, it is a quick-drying field.

Wade Mitchell, the 18-year-old freshman who has played the most of any Georgia Tech quarterback this season, is another who hopes that the weatherman will do a quick about-face. He is recovering from a three-day siege of influenza but needs several days of bright sunshine to regain his strength.

Pepper Rodgers, one of two Tech quarterbacks in 1952, will start. Charlie Brannon, a defensive halfback in 1952, will start for the injured Leon Hardeman. Hardeman, unable to work out for six weeks because of a knee injury, is expected to see a little action.

West Virginia will arrive here tomorrow. The team has been drilling at Biloxi, Miss., since Dec. 20 and Coach Art Lewis said his charges are "all healthy and serious."

Triple Main Event Booked at Armory

A triple main event featuring a midget match at the Marion Armory Thursday night will mark the final wrestling program here for 1953.

Opening match at 8:30 pits the Masked Marvel against Jim Lewis in a rematch ordered by the Marion Wrestling Commission. Both were involved in a rough match two weeks ago.

Billy Fox will grapple with Scotty Williams in a tri-state championship match. Both wrestlers will be battling for the belt now in Fox's possession.

The midget match sends Vito Gonzales against Sallie Halasie. Gonzales, who hails from Mexico, stands four feet tall and weighs 90 pounds. Halasie, the only Negro midget wrestler, is the same size as Gonzales and was seen here several weeks ago.

State's Tracks Given Running, Trotting Dates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio race tracks now are limited to eight races a day except on Saturdays and holidays.

In the event of rain-outs at night, harness race tracks may add one race nightly until the rained-out schedule is made up, the commission also stipulated.

The commission set dates for track meetings and passed several other rules. One makes mandatory a totalizer with a centerfield board recording straight-place-show wagering for all Ohio tracks which handled $200,000 or more daily last year.

Those tracks are Randall Park, Thistle Down, Cranwood, Beulah Park, Ascot Park and River Downs.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill told the commission it has authority to deal with problems of interlocking directorates at tracks.

He also affirmed his opinon of two years ago advising the commission it had power to hire racing stewards and judges.

Dates assigned by the commission:

Beulah Park (42 days)—May 10 through May 31 and Sept. 11 through Oct. 9 (closed Sept. 23).

Thistle Down (4 days)—June 1 through July 19.

River Downs (42 days)—June 7 through July 24.

Randall Park (42 days)—July 2 through Sept. 6.

Cranwood (42 days)—Sept. 7 through Oct. 25.

Night Harness Racing

Lebanon (38 nights)—May 15 through June 5 and Sept. 18 through Oct. 9.

Hilliards (41 nights)—June 8 through July 24.

Grandview (42 nights)—June 30 through Aug. 17.

Painesville (42 nights)—May 12 through June 29.

Bucks' Sixth

Ebert, Freeman Spark OSU To 74-56 Win Over Denver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Guard Robin Freeman joined big Paul Ebert in a two-man display of all-around basketball prowess to help Ohio State to a 74-56 victory over the University of Denver last night. Freeman scored 20,

Ebert, the 6-3 senior center, scored 23 points to maintain his lead in the Big Ten point free-for-all.

Both lads showed the 6,000-plus fans in Columbus flashy ball-handling, fine board work and defensive skill as well.

Freeman, who scores most of his baskets on long one-hand push shots was number four man in the Big Ten race at last count. Last night's performance gives him 146 points in seven games—an average of nearly 21 an outing.

Fourteen of Freeman's 20 points last night came in the first half, when the game was still close.

Ohio broke in front fast but Denver clawed back and finished the first quarter ahead 19-18. The Bucks were ahead 33-30 by the time the half ended and they stayed ahead. It was 56-47 by the end of the third period.

Ohio State's record stands at five and two; Denver's at one and seven.

John Lattner Hurt During Shrine Drill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Injuries hit both teams for the annual Shrine football game Saturday:

The East, a 6½-point favorite, was hurt when Notre Dame All-America halfback Johnny Lattner jarred his left shoulder out of its socket yesterday in scrimmage at Santa Clara.

The West lost Stanford All-America end Sam Morley, favorite pass target of teammate quarterback Bob Garrett. Morley badly twisted an injured knee and can be only a limping, part-time receiver.

Lattner, however, was pronounced fit to play with only a little soreness to bother him.

TV Boxers Seeking Crack at Champion

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Johnny Saxton and Del Flanagan, almost a classic match of the take-charge puncher and the wily dancer, battle for a shot at top welterweight contender Carmen Basilio tonight before a national television audience.

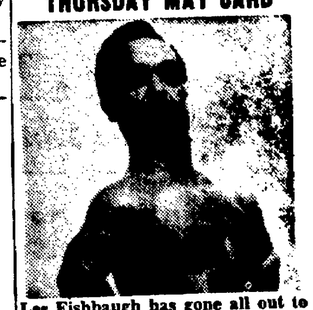
The match starts at 10 p. m. EST.

The chips are deep blue for both fighters. Saxton, miffed at being "by-passed" by leading 147-pounders, sees tonight's 10-rounder as opening the gate to a match with Basilio and from there to champion Kid Gavilan.

For Flanagan, the more experienced of the two, it could be the crossroads fight of his career. The 25-year-old jabbing specialist of St. Paul has been in contention before, only to suffer injuries and occasional lapses.

Saxton, a punishing swinger and cool ring general at 23, was the slight favorite. The New Yorker is the third ranking welter contender. Flanagan rates sixth.

MIDGET WRESTLERS
CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH AND MASKED MARVEL HEADLINE BIG THURSDAY MAT CARD



Les Fishbaugh has gone all out to give the Marion Armory fans the card of the year Thursday Night. It will be a triple main event with two of the best Midgets, Sallie Halasie, the colored Midget, wrestling the Mexican Midget, Vito Gonzales.
Another top match will be for the Tri-State gold belt, between Billy Fox and Scotty Williams, and third main event with a return match demanded by the Marion Wrestling Commission between the Masked Marvel and Jim Lewis. These were the three outstanding matches of 1953 and now they are on one card, so make up a New Year's Party and start it off with a wrestling program of the best. Lexington Nips St. Mary 52-51 for Carnival Crown

Charity Toss in Closing 5 Seconds Turns Back Irish

By JOHN SHORT

St. Mary dropped a heart-breaking 52-51 decision to Lexington last night in the finals of the holiday cage carnival at the Coliseum. It marked the second straight year the Minutemen had dropped the Marion team for the tourney crown.

After trailing throughout the game with the exception of the opening period the Irish managed to knot the score at 49 all with two minutes and 26 seconds remaining to play.

Irish Tie Score

Lexington's Dale Ford shoved his team ahead 51-49 with 1:14 remaining on a set shot from the foul line but the Irish, taking the ball out of bounds, controlled play until, with less than a half minute to play, Mike Anderson dropped in a one-hand shot from the corner to knot the count. Lexington then missed in a bid for the clincher and Andersons came down with the rebound. But with the score knotted and with both teams scrambling for a loose ball the Minutemen's Cliff Snedley was fouled with five seconds to play.

He dropped in his first attempt to give his mates a one-point edge and even though the Irish grabbed the rebound time ran out before Johnny Messenger and Jon Smith could move the ball into scoring territory.

St. Mary racked up a 12-10 lead in the opening frame but dropped behind 22-20 at the half. The visitors, paced by Ford, notched 15 markers in the third stanza while the Irish could collect only nint. At the start of the final frame, the Irish could collect only nine. winners pushed in 15 points during the Irish were down 37-29. The point splurge by Coach Ray Robbins' scrappy cagers. The taller Lexington team controlled the boards when the chips were down to eke out the one-point victory.

Anderson Leads Scoring

Mike Anderson, who dumped in only two field goals during the first half, paced the Irish attack with 18 points, all coming from the field. He shot only once from the foul circle. Butch Merchant dumped in 14 markers and Messenger added eight.

Ford was the big gun for the winners. He collected 17 points, 13 coming in the final two stanzas to offset the Irish surge led by Anderson. Snedley collected 11, including the game winning charity toss.

St. Mary outscored the winners from the field 22-17 but Lexington countered on 18 of 32 foul shots. The Irish shot only 18 times from the foul line and dropped in seven. The previous night St. Mary hit on 22 of 37 attempts from the charity line.

In the consolation game, Elm Valley clipped an impotent Radnor quintet 40-24. The Trojans collected only two points in the first period and failed to connect from the field until less than three minutes remained in the second half.

The Aces, however, got off to an equally slow start and managed to gain only a 6-2 edge in the first frame. They added seven in the second while Radnor was being held to six and led at the half 13-8. The losers dropped in only two from the field in the first two quarters.

The Aces held off the Radnor crew in the third period and boosted their lead to 23-14 at the start of the final stanza. Then, sparked by Walt Borchers, who chipped in 10 of his 11 points in that period, the Aces began pouring it on. They dumped in 17 points while Radnor managed 10. Borchers' point splurge gave him scoring honors along with Ed Vanausdle. Each had 11. Donnie Maxwell paced Radnor with nine.

Three Foul Out

Three of Radnor's starting five were lost via the foul route. A total of 37 violations were called by the officials, 22 against Radnor and 15 against the Aces.

The Very Reverend William Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary Church, presented the championship trophy to Dale Ford following the title game. Merchant, Irish captain, was presented the game ball.

Trabert Beaten In Davis Cup's Challenge Play

MELBOURNE (AP)—Lewis Hoad, one of Australia's 19-year-old wonder boys who has devoted his life to tennis since he was 10, defeated America's ace, Tony Trabert, 13-11, 6-3, 2-6, 3-6, 7-5 today in a miserable, steady rain to tie the Davis Cup Challenge Round at 2-all.

The condition of the Kooyong court was so bad after the match—which went 62 games and lasted just five minutes short of three hours—that officials decided to postpone the deciding singles test until tomorow.

Now the optimism that was rampant in the United States' camp has subsided somewhat, for the Americans' slumping star, Vic Seixas, will go into action against Ken Rosewall, the other Australian 19-year-old. Rosewall has licked Seixas six times in a row.

The only real ray of sunshine that U.S. Captain Billy Talbert can see is that in a way Rosewall has been as bad as Seixas. Ken was benched in the doubles yesterday after his poor showing in the opening singles against Trabert. So the pressure will be on both players.

Still, today's match was the one the Americans had counted on winning.

It wasn't that Trabert didn't perform well. He did. On occasions, he was brilliant. In fact, strange as it may sound, he held the upper hand most of the way.

Troy Bruins Invade Coliseum Tonight, Seek First Marion Win

Marion's Barons host the Troy Bruins on the Coliseum ice tonight in an International Hockey League game. The home forces will be out to recover from Sunday's 6-2 loss to Louisville here.

The Barons cannot advance in the standings tonight with a win, but it would propel them to within one point of Grand Rapids, which is tied for third spot in the IHL with Toledo with 35 points, and only two away from Johnstown and Troy, who are deadlocked for second spot with 36 points each.

League-leading Cincinnati last night hiked its IHL lead to five points over Johnstown and Troy by blanking hapless Milwaukee 6-0. In the meantime, Johnstown was dropping a 3-2 contest to Ft. Wayne. In the only other game, Grand Rapids moved three points out front of the Barons in third spot by edging Louisville 3-2.

Marion will be out to continue its jinx over the Bruins in tonight's game. The Barons have beaten the visitors in all three meetings this year, and have outscored them 17-7 in those wins. Last meeting between the two clubs Dec. 9 here resulted in a 6-3 win for the Barons as Gordon Vejprava led the way with his third hat trick of the season. In previous tilts, Marion had beaten Troy 8-3 and 3-1. Vejprava also turned in a hat trick in the 8-3 win on Oct. 28.

Tonight's game heralds a busy week for the Barons for the first time in several weeks. Marion travels to Toledo Saturday night and then both teams come back here for a game Sunday on the Coliseum ice.

The visiting Troy Bruins, although having an 18-14 mark in IHL competition, stand fifth in the league in defense and fourth in offense. Troy has allowed 125 goals, 24 more than Marion, while scoring 123, only two more than the Barons. Marion stands third in the IHL in defense and fifth in offense.

A loss tonight for the Barons would endanger their fourth place position in the league. Louisville and Ft. Wayne, standng next to last-place Milwaukee in the standings, each have 30 points, only two less than the Barons.

Radio and Television

Beginner's Luck

An advertisement in The Saturday Review:

UNKNOWN!

Would you like us to tell you that TV is a wide open field — open to all new writers as well as to the professional? . . . that you can receive as much as $750 for a half hour script; proportionately more for an hour show? that we can sell your material if it is distinctive?

J. CROSBY

WELL, WE CAN!

The fact is that 60 per cent of our TV sales has been for beginners! Can we be of help to you? Write or phone.

DANIEL S. MEAD
LITERARY AGENCY
419 Fourth Ave.
New York 16, N.Y.

WELL, THAT SOLVES one of the most perplexing problems I have. Ever since I've had this job, I've been besieged by folks who want to break into the writing game, the TV writing game. I've never had the faintest idea where to send them or what to advise them. Now I know. Daniel S. Mead Literary Agency. Write or phone your distinctive prose in his direction and leave me alone. (Whoever writes the blurbs for Daniel S. Mead, incidentally, employs easily the most distinctive punctuation I've seen since I graduated from the works of Carlyle.)

The whole ad is fraught with significance. Walter Ross, who sent it to me, observes:

"Out of the mouths of advertisements in The Saturday Review come clues to the parlous state of television. (If it keeps up like this, they can take that set out of my parlous.)

"The enclosed advertisement by Daniel S. Mead Literary Agency throws some light on the sources of those TV shows that fill the gap between baseball games and prize-fights. Have you ever wondered . . . but of course you have, and here is the answer.

—:—

"JUST FIGURE IT OUT. Mead says that 6 per cent of his TV sales have been for beginners, that is, non-professional writers. As he says he gets up to $750 for a half hour show and we presume his agency charges the usual 10 per cent agent's fee and he has an office on Fourth avenue, it stands to reason that he must sell one or two shows a day, minimum, to make expenses. That is, say, 500 shows a year. Sixty per cent of them by beginners — this means 300 amateur scripts. So that's where they come from.

"Now Mead is advertising for more clients. Obviously, more amateurs, too, for his advertisement is clothed in these terms. Who's he going to get?

"All sorts of people read The Saturday Review, some of them being professional writers whom we can eliminate to start with. What have we left? Businessmen, taxi-drivers, private secretaries, young men with an itch to become your traveling companion, et al. And, since the Review is a family type magazine, presumably the children of these folk.

"I know my kids read it. Maybe they're potential Mead clients. Maybe they are present Mead clients. One of them owns his own typewriter. Both of them write themes and reports for school. Both of them, too, have a yen for a fast buck. What better way to earn it than to dramatize those school reports and let Mead sell them as daytime shows? How do I know what they do after school every day?"

Four Officers In Circleville Held for Jury

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Four Circleville policemen have been bound to the grand jury on charges of assault filed by Maynard Keaton, 25, of Circleville.

The four, Sgt. Alva Shasteen and Patrolmen Ludwell Mills, Russell Ogan and John Lockard, pleaded innocent late yesterday when arraigned before Magistrate Oscar Root. They were placed under bonds of $50 each.

Keaton in his affidavit charged he was "beaten unmercifully" by the policemen on the last day of Circleville's annual Pumpkin Show, Oct. 24. The affidavit did not give details of the beating or circumstances surrounding the affair.

A fifth policeman named by Keaton as taking part in the assault, Herbert Weaver, has since resigned and moved to Brooklyn, N. Y.

Root, the magistrate who heard the pleas, resigns his job Jan. 1 to become Circleville safety director and head of the police department.

EDUCATOR DIES

CLEVELAND (AP) — Russell H. Erwine, 68, who retired last year after 13 years as superintendent of schools in suburban Euclid, died yesterday afternoon at Euclid-Glenville Hospital.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — A mild rally spread through the stock market today. Nearly all sections of the list participated.

Trading was fairly active, but considerably below the pace maintained yesterday, when 2,140,000 shares changed hands in a declining market.

Selling to establish tax losses again was in evidence; a number of issues selling around their lows for the year had trouble maintaining even fractional gains.

Ahead around a point at one time were Bethlehem Steel, Boeing, Mathieson Chemical, Allied Chemical, Kennecott, and Owens-Corning Fibreglass.

Ohioans Can't Cite Fifth Amendment In Declining To Testify, Judge Rules

CINCINNATI (AP) — May Ohioans invoke the Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution in refusing to testify before state commissions?

No, ruled Judge George E. Kearns yesterday in finding three persons guilty of contempt of the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission.

The fifth amendment states, "No person . . . shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself . . ." This has been construed by witnesses to mean they have the right to decline to answer questions of federal and state legislative commissions which might tend to incriminate them.

The first persons to be convicted of contempt of the state un-American activities group are Talmadge Raley, 42, of Sidney, Ohio; Joseph Stern, 43, and Emmett C. Brown, 28, both of Cincinnati.

Judge Kearns said state law gave them immunity from prosecution arising out of their testimony before the commission. Therefore, he said, they could not take refuge in the federal constitution

U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell has asked Congress to pass a law which would give the same immunity for federal witnesses in similar circumstances. Such a law would prevent witnesses from invoking the much-repeated Fifth, he said.

Judge Kearns' decision will be appealed, the defense attorney said. And it may take a ruling of the Ohio Supreme Court to spell out the protection, if any, witnesses in state proceedings will have from the amendment.

But Kearns based his decision on more than the immunity clause. He said the actions of the men were contemptuous because "the questions which are the basis of the counts in the indictments are so lacking in the elements suggesting incrimination . . ."

The men had refused to answer questions regarding their residences, jobs and acquaintances.

One man, Reuel Stanfield, 52, of Cincinnati, was acquitted. While he declined to answer some things, Judge Kearns noted he answered others.

Stern defended his right to refuse to answer the commission, declaring:

"We were perfectly within our rights in refusing to answer. Our trial was evidence of the hysteria on the part of the legislators having political ambition. . . . The danger of the overthrow of this government is the hysteria of the people conducting these investigations."

The trio was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $500. They are out on bond pending their appeals.

Ends Old Practice

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines' new President, Ramon Magsaysay, is putting an end to the practice inherited hundreds of years ago from the Spaniards of being addressed as "Your Excellency."

He wants to be addressed as just plain "Mr. President" or "Mr. Magsaysay."

Time's 'Man of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Time magazine today chose West German Cahncellor Konrad Adenauer as its 27th annual Man of the Year.

It said he guided the Germans "back to moral respectability and earned himself a seat in the highest councils of the Western Powers."

Firemen Delayed, No One Had Nickel To Call

AVON, N. Y. (AP)—Yesterday six volunteers rushed to the fire hall in response to an alarm. Trouble was, no one had a nickel to telephone the chief to find out where the fire was.

Seems Chief George W Studley sounds the alarm from his house after getting fire calls.

As it turned out, the chief arrived at the station six minutes after the firemen and led them to a burning truck.

Studley says hereafter a nickel will be next to the phone, where everyone can see it.
